

WE NOMINATE

Roger Huntington Sessions, a dominant figure in the field of American music and numbered by fellow composers, musicians and even critics among the "modern world's most gifted men of music," who in the month ahead will be ringing down the curtain on what is probably the single most exciting chapter in the history of Princeton Music — his decades here as a creative force and as a teacher of American composers. With the close of the academic year, the 68-year old Sessions will be relinquishing his responsibilities as first incumbent of Princeton University's only endowed professorship of music.

For Sessions, whose Princeton associations date back to 1935 and were interrupted by eight years at the University of California (1945-1953), "mandatory retirement for age" is purely an academic term. Next fall, following a summer in residence at an international music school in Argentina, he will assume new teaching duties at the Juilliard School in New York City and the following year will return to Berkeley as Visiting Professor of Music. At the same time he will be carrying forward work on a half-dozen commissions, including his Sixth Symphony for the State of New Jersey and undesignated works for the Universities of Michigan and California.

These compositions will join some 30 other works, an output of original achievement starting in 1923 with probably his most popular work, the orchestral suite, "The Black Maskers." Most of them are written in a highly chromatic idiom described by Sessions as a "sweeping and cumulative deployment of a sustained musical impulse," an approach which has evoked both caustic criticism and unreserved praise. One observer felt that his work "bears the thumbprints of a master," while another, following a performance of Sessions'

Third Symphony, noted: "Mingled with the polite and tepid applause that greeted it, there was, I am happy to report, a certain amount of valiant hissing."

It is odd that Sessions has received infinitely more recognition in Europe than in this country and that the work hailed as his finest, the 3-act opera "Montezuma," remains unknown in the United States. This opera was given its world premiere last spring in West Berlin. The audience reaction was violently divided, with vociferous protests — even fistfights — and then equally vociferous applause leading to 15 curtain calls. From the Berlin Bureau of "The New York Times" came this evaluation: "Montezuma" marks a "huge step in the history of American music and probably the biggest single step, so far, in the history of American opera."

Brooklyn-born and a Harvard freshman at age 14, Sessions, the only native American to be elected a Life Honorary Member of the International Society for Contemporary Music, has won the New York Music Critics' Circle Award, the Naumburg Foundation Award and the Gold Medal of the National Institute of Arts and Letters. Sessions likes to explain that his music is "of line, rather than of detail." One publication has noted: "Since today's listeners are accustomed to focusing on detail, they find Sessions' work hard to follow. He has never pushed performances of any of his works. Says he: 'I like my work too much to go to anyone with a score under my arm.'"

For his contributions as a composer and teacher whose "work communicates the loneliness and loftiness of artistic experience"; for insisting that what the public really wants from music is "vital and relevant experience"; for his impact upon the upcoming generation of American composers; he is our nominee as

MERGER VOTE SET
For Schools. On Thursday, October 7, Princeton residents in Borough and Township will vote on whether to merge their two school systems into one.

The referendum date was announced Thursday at the Township Board meeting and again Tuesday at the Borough Board meeting as both boards signed and sent to the state their formal legal authorization for a referendum. Two attorneys, Gordon Thain for the Township Board and William Miller for the Borough Board, had prepared the papers jointly.

In the week that has elapsed since the Borough Board's public meeting on May 18, a survey has begun, several private meetings have begun to think out loud about merger and members of the two school boards have expressed public concern about the attitudes Princeton residents should have toward one another during this difficult time of decision.

"The Friends of Public Education in Princeton" has chosen 800 names — a select, by no means "random" sample — and has been asking each of the 800 a question or questions about merger.

What's the Question? "The reason for the survey," says George J. Adriance, secretary of the "Friends," "is to find what areas of understanding or lack of understanding there are, and what kinds of questions people have about the whole area of regionalization of schools."

The questions formulated by Opinion Research, staff members, is a deep secret to everybody except the 800 and the students hired to do the asking. If the questions were known in advance, Mr. Adriance explains, people might be influenced in their answers.

The "Friends" have also mailed to Borough and Township voters a three and one-half page summary, the "Blue Book" report, "Public Education in Princeton," urging everyone who reads the summary, to read the full report as well.

Meanwhile, both Boards have been proceeding thoughtfully and with care, trying to all costs to avoid friction, and hoping to eliminate it where it may exist already.

have been disturbed," states Mrs. Paul Straver of the Borough Board is a letter to TOWN TOPICS (see "Mailbox," page 13), by the expressions of rancor and bitterness between Borough and Township.

Mrs. Straver points to Princeton's reputation for tolerance, friendship toward people from foreign lands and continuing work toward integration, and reminds her readers that nobody shoots, goes to parties, attends church or works as a "Borough" or "Township" resident, but as a "citizen of Princeton," and she urges a decision on regionalization on "what is the best education for all our children."

Should We Wait? At Thursday's Township School Board meeting, several members moved unopposed to the idea of signing the enabling instrument for a referendum before the Borough Board did.

"Perhaps we should wait," was the feeling expressed by some, "and sign this on Tuesday when the Borough Board does."

Mr. Griffin explained, however, that he and Mr. Miller for the Borough had worked over the plans together, and that the instrument merely put into legal form what everybody had decided on already, and the fact that the Township came first was merely an accident of the calendar; the Township Board made its move.

Expressions of personal and organizational opinion have begun to emerge. The Board of the Borough Elementary Schools PTA announced this week its support of merger. "We have carefully considered the report," the policy statement says. "Mailbox, page 13) and we are convinced of the necessity of a prompt unification of the school systems of Township and Borough."

Opposed. Almost the first articulate opposition to merger developed in the Borough this week following the Borough Board's public meeting. This opposition comes from Negro families who feel that merger will cost them the "Princeton Plan" and will set the community back to the segregated days before the Plan went into effect.

"In view of the heavy Negro population concentrated in this area," says Mrs. Richard B. Edwards, Sr., of 240 John Street, "I'm apprehensive — Princeton may well be on the way to another Englewood or Backus (Stuyvesant) even though buying will be in effect."

Question of Need. Albert Hinds, 227 John Street, a lifelong resident of Princeton, says, "Merger may have some good points, but it doesn't answer the Negro children segregation. It's the Negro children who will have to do all the bussing."

"Also," Mr. Hinds continues, "Many Township schools weren't built for a full athletic program and they don't have proper gyms. The Borough has these athletic facilities the Township doesn't have. What if comes down to it, we don't need the Township, but the Township needs us."

However, Borough Board member Thomas Moore believes that most Negro families are in favor of merger. One couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, 28 Lehigh Avenue, are three Borough children, and he is quick to say, "Yes, we support merger. I don't feel the 'Princeton Plan' has been scuttled," Mr. Brown said, "we have the finest schools here and we will continue to have under merger."

"Merger should have happened a long time ago," says Mrs. Floyd J. Campbell, 105 Lehigh Avenue, "the 'Princeton Plan' was good enough in its time, but we need a new approach."

A Strong "Yes." One of the strongest Negro supporters of merger is the Rev. Albert Tyson.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

"We've Had Reactions" Public pressure brought about two decisions by the Borough Board of Education Tuesday on the school merger issue.

The Board will schedule a question-and-answer session for residents at each monthly meeting until the October referendum. It also appointed a committee, in response to a resolution by Dr. Harvey O. Rothberg, to study the problems of Borough pupil distribution under a regionalized school system.

Board members have been nearly overwhelmed by phone calls and sidewalk conversations since last week's public hearing on the issue. President Graham Rohrer, who has strong reservations about the proposed merger, facetiously suggested, "I'd like to ask that the board get me an unaltered phone."

Which School? The Lasher resolution approved by the board calls for the committee to work along with a similar group from the Township board. The whole knotty problem of busing children to the various schools to achieve integration, as well as the distribution of Borough pupils to the Township schools and John Witherspoon School, would be studied. The resulting plan would be published to the voters prior to the referendum.

Hopefully it would be adopted by the regionalized school board. "It is a fact," Mr. Rohrer inserted, "that the majority of the regionalized board is likely to be made up of current board members."

"After two years of study,"

LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSES: Four portable classrooms will go up almost overnight this summer at Princeton High School to take care of overflow classes. Each building contains two classrooms, complete with rugs, drapes, blackboards, and other essentials. Two rooms will be fully-equipped science laboratories. The units, rented from CIT Educational Buildings, will be located between Moore Street and the school building, and adjacent to the boy's gym.

asked Board member Mrs. Bernice G. Miller, "are you taking the position that the plan in the Blue Book is not the plan to be adopted? You are suggesting other plans?"

Dr. Lasher, said, "We've had reactions!"

Board members John A. Buckland and Thomas A. Moore were appointed to serve with Dr. Lasher on the committee. "We welcome written suggestions on the part of interested individuals and groups. We will also seek consultations with the county superintendent and other experts if this is deemed desirable."

Pro and Con. Mrs. Sheldon Judson, president of the Borough PTA, sent a letter stating that her executive board is "convinced of the necessity of prompt unification of the school systems of Borough and Township."

Mrs. Donald L. Wert of 6 Hodge Road appeared to state on behalf of a group of friends. "We feel there has not been enough information," She said that the Borough "would lose a neighborhood school" and the "cohesive" faculty of the Nassau Street School.

"We believe the education and emotional well-being of our youngest age group to be at least equal in importance to that of the older children," he stated. "We believe in more open forums."

Mrs. Sarah K. Strayer noted, "We said we'd have another hearing if anyone wants it."

The sense of the meeting was that another forum would be scheduled this fall in addition to question sessions at regular meetings.

Referendum Date. In response to a query from L. R. Caruso of 31 Linden Lane, Board attorney William Miller offered to ask Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, to study with him "the possibility of holding the school referendum as part of the November election" instead of separately in October.

A supplement to the Blue Book ("Public Education in Princeton"), giving information requested by the State Advisory Committee was presented. Attorney Miller noted the legal aspect of the $35,000 due annually from Princeton University to the Borough Board for the next 25 years, part of the purchase arrangement for the Nassau Street School. "This can be dedicated and retained in the Borough to offset the cost of financing the regionalized school district," he said. He recommended including this item in the referendum.

The board officially approved, with some discussion, the Blue Book and supplement. An amendment proposed by Mr. Rohrer, seconded by Mrs. Miller, called for deleting the words "without dissent" from paragraph three of the Blue Book preface which contains the endorsement of the school board. The amendment passed, with Mrs. Strayer voting against.

The proposal for regionalization of the two districts will now go before State Commissioner of Education Frederick Baumbarger.

Personnel Notes. The appointment of J. Alfred Selis as assistant principal of Princeton High School was approved. He has been serving as administrative assistant.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt, high school and Witherspoon art teacher, and F. Paul Incho of the high school science department.

Miscellany. Bids from food suppliers for the cafeteria were opened, as well as bids for coat, oil, painting, concrete masonry work. They were turned over to William Evans, business manager. Awards will go to the lowest bidder meeting specifications.

Acting in accordance with Borough Council, the board approved the interim appointment of Lawrence Patterson as acting custodian of school funds.

Letters were received from Mrs. William B. Brettnal of 182 Hickey Court and a group of 47 parents expressing regret at the resignation of music director Thomas Hibbs.

Approval was given to the academic and instrumental music classes to be held at the high school this summer. Courses offered will include for the first time creative writing, creative accounting machine operation, a course in Gross anatomy is under consideration.

The 20-item agenda, plus debate on the school issue, consumed three-and-a-half hours—an unusually long session for the Borough Board. Other John A. Buckland, the Rev. members present were Dr. Elmer G. Homishawen, Thomas A. Moore and Dr. Harvey D. Roberg.

BAN PLANNED

On Student Drivers. Princeton High School students who drive to school may have to find another way in September. The Borough Board of Education is considering the Borough Safety Council's recommendation that student cars be banned.

HELP YOUR MAILMAN: Have you a dog who tends to be over-protective of your property and doesn't care whether you get your mail or not? If so, Acting Postmaster John L. DiIworski suggests, it will be to your best interest and a lot fairer to out of Uncle Sam's mail carriers — to keep your dog to check when the mail is due.

Postal regulations stipulate that mail delivery may be withheld — not just from the offending home but from an entire neighborhood — if a dog persistently anarcho and lunges at a mail carrier. Three cases are pending now. Mr. DiIworski reports, in which cooperation has been promised by dog owners but has not been forthcoming, patrons must call for it at the Palmer Square Post Office.

REPORT AWAITED: A final meeting of the Joint Committee on Constitution was scheduled for this week, with the report on the pros and cons of municipal merger expected to be released some time next month. Virtually complete now, it will then depend on the praiser when the voluminous (several hundred pages) report is released for public consumption.

WHAT'S INSIDE: A proposed law in New York, banning capital punishment for most forms of murder convictions, led TOWN TOPICS to ask Princeton are residents whether they favor such a step here. As might be expected, opinions vary. The next question of the Week, page 33.

A report on the final production in McCarter for the current season and a run-down on the 1965 Fall Drama Series are provided in News of the Theatres (pages 25-28), where summer presentations and current motion pictures are also covered. . . . musical activity is still very much a part of the Princeton scene (page 30), while Art in considerable variety is reported and illustrated on page 40.

New Month Coming

June's a shy
And happy last,
Pleasant dates
From the grass.

June arrives Tuesday, and believe it or not, that means only three more weeks 'til summer begins.

As a matter of fact, it's not too hard to believe, what with all the hot and humid weather being provided by the end of May. Above average temperatures, possibly relieved by flounder showers, are forecast each day through Friday.

The weekend, too, will be unseasonably warm, but hopefully with less humidity. Meanwhile, the drought grows longer . . .

Golf Club and plans for dividing the Princeton Jaycees' share of the proceeds from the Giants-Engles football game in August.

A feature story on how a speech therapist at Princeton Hospital guides young and old back to proper enunciation . . . final plans for Monday's Memorial Day parade . . . a report on the traffic survey taken by the borough, which (temporarily) created some traffic problems of its own . . . juveniles who vandalize mail boxes in rural areas, and a cat which tripped a burglar alarm . . . it's all in the week's news in Topics of the Town.

WHO'S LISTENING? The Legislature has passed a bill which makes anyone who uses profane language on the telephone liable to a charge of disorderly conduct. The idea behind such legislation is sound enough, but the matter of how conviction is to be obtained raises a few questions.

If a caller is sufficiently insistent so that his listener decides to prefer charges, a third person would be essential as a witness. Otherwise, it would be merely a question of one party's word against another, with insufficient evidence for the judge to convict.

If the defendant has reason to believe his privacy was being invaded, he might well escape conviction by launching a counter-charge of wire-tapping. Maybe the law is merely meant to cope with those who lose their tempers in a public phone booth, so that more than the party at the other end of the receiver are on the receiving end.

NEWS NOTES: The new police commissioner of New York City, Vincent Lyons Broderick, is a Princeton graduate, Class of 1941, and both his brothers, Joseph Lyons Broderick and Francis Lyons Broderick, went here, too . . . the former graduating in 1927, the latter in 1943. And all three were managing editors of The Daily Princetonian.

The newly-formed Princeton Area Alumni Association has given a check to the YMCA to be used for memberships for five boys who could not otherwise afford them . . . at a meeting last week, Robert E. Clancy association president, handed the check to Bill Bradley, a guest on the occasion, who passed it on to Y president Reeves Hicks.

Got any spare pigeons? A classified advertiser in the current issue of TOWN TOPICS would like to buy, or even rent them, from you — purpose unspecified in his request. A wide variety of items are offered in this week's first section (pages 17 to 24) and in the second section (pages 45 to 51).

the school, according to Superintendent Chester Stroup. Most, he said, come from the sending districts.

The concern of the Nassau Street School PTA for speeding on Walnut Lane and high school traffic in general came out last year during discussion on the John Wilber-Spoon School. At the board's request, the Safety Council has been studying the situation.

Some exceptions to the ban would be made in hardship cases, or where a student had to leave for a job right after classes, Dr. Stroup said.

The legality of a school board ban was questioned by Professor Robert A. Lively of the board. He was told by the board attorney that it is more a matter of policy than law.

In accordance with a request by Dr. John A. Buckland, the sending districts will be notified of the pending action.

The matter will be brought up again at the June meeting.

Safety Council members are Magistrate Theodore Tams, Police Chief Peter McCrehan, Borough Administrator Robert Mooney, Councilman William Walker, Mrs. Mary Lou Stevens of the Borough PTA, Mayor Patterson and Dr. Stroup.

WERE YOU COUNTED?

Traffic Surveys Eads. The precise number of in-and-out cars counted during the four-day traffic survey in the Borough will not be revealed until the computers have finished computing, probably in October.

"Not one person called me to complain," marveled Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson at his press conference this week. Mayor Patterson said he expected calls from angry commuters who had missed trains or angry housewives caught in traffic jams, but nobody said a word.

Although it was the Borough's survey, it was a joint enterprise, with the University paying half of the $10,000 cost and the Township contributing its two-year file of traffic counts.

Wilbur Smith and Associates, who conducted the survey, sent four staff members to supervise the two dozen University undergraduates who did the counting, sometimes from positions of great repose. (See photo).

Most Complete Ever. The study will embrace moving traffic, parking, internal traffic and will provide the Borough with the most complete traffic information the municipality has ever had.

made one day at the intersection of Nassau, Stockton and Bayard Lane. Surveyors slipped a piece of colored paper under each windshield wiper so that surveyors at other places in the Borough could keep track of the flow.

On another day, the counter-men asked drivers parking at curb or in parking lot why they were in Princeton. If the answer was "shopping," they asked which stores the driver had visited, where he—or, more than likely, she—had come from and where she was going.

At one point on Washington Road, below College, the counters worked from 6 a.m. to midnight on two days, one day for each direction, asking "Where did you come from?" "Where are you going and why?" and
"Do you plan to stop in Princeton?"

ALL ABOARD FOR APPALACHIA! Almost two tons of food and clothing and shoes for the boys, girls and parents of Appalachia went off on Tuesday from Community Park and Valley Road Schools. It took a lot of loading to get that truck full, and boys and girls who helped were (left to right) Jim Barrett, Scott Purvis, Andy Benson, Eric Sanders, David Mandel, Jeanie Stahl, Simon Moss and Bob Cooper. Jim and Jennie are co-chairmen.
Bob is co-chairman of the Appalachia book drive.

PRIMARIES ON TUESDAY

Sandman? Dumont? Republicans will decide Tuesday who will represent the party in the governor's slot on the November ballot. Will it be State Sen-those who have filed are, in the 30 or so Republicans Henry S. Patterson Jr., incumbent for mayor; William H.

Walker II and Alan E. Sonnent, incumbents for Council; Dumont, incumbent for Bartolow for mayor; H. Philip Min-and Joseph L. Bannon for Council.

In the Township, the candidates for Township Committee are Republicans Carl C. Scherer, incumbent, and James S.
Hill. The lone Democrat is Melvin S. Gottlieb.

Issues. Governor Richard J.
Hughes is, essentially, unopposed on the Democratic gubernatorial primary ticket, although William J. Clark of Newark is running also. Mr.
Clark, who lists his occupation as "unemployed," advocates immediate nationalization by the state of all public utilities.

The chief issue between Mr.
Dumont and Mr. Sandman is a broad-based tax. Mr. Dumont proposes a "selective" sales tax of three percent. Mr. Sandman opposes any kind of new tax, sales or income. Governor Hughes supports an income tax.

Sandman, "New Jersey will end the present fiscal year with a surplus in excess of $34 million," states Mr. Sandman.
"It has available now $40.1 million for higher education, $50 million for institutions and almost $500 million for highways. The growing economy the state will provide sufficient revenues for our needs for the foreseeable future."

Dumont, "A broad-based tax will relieve local property taxes by considerably increased state aid to school districts, for roads and bridges, for college education," states Mr. Dumont.

"For this purpose, I prefer a selective sales tax because non-residents will contribute more than under personal income tax.
This tax would exempt all basic necessities of life."

Pooschel, Mr. Pooschel, the third Republican candidate, has the support of many conservatives in the party. "New Jersey's fiscal problems can be resolved satisfactorily only when the Federal government is reformed."

WOMAN HITS POLE

After falling asleep, "The only thing I remembered was seeing the telephone pole before I hit it. I must have fallen asleep."

So said Ruth Rodenberger, 23, Grandview Road, Skillman, to Township Police after she had run into a pole in front of 225 Jefferson Road, five minutes before 3 Sunday morning. Mrs. Rodenberger's left leg was fractured in four places. She was taken by the First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Hospital. It was reported that, in addition, she received a possible fracture of the nose, lacerations of the left knee and right toe.

Her small foreign car was totaled. Police made no charges.

Almost at the same time, 3:16 a.m., Bruce A. Olson, 20, 23 Broadview Drive, was in control of his Volkswagen sedan on the Princeton-Kingsford Road, not far from the Kingston Bridge. Mr. Olson's car skidded 150 feet, rolled over and came to rest against a guy wire of a Public Service pole. He was uninjured. Police ticketed him for careless driving. The rear end, top and both sides of his car were damaged.

Volting Hours Shared

When primary elections were moved into the summer hours of June 1, somebody forgot — or, rather, nobody remembered — that Daylight Saving would be in effect.

The law says (and you know how election officials are about the law) that the polls are to be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Standard Time. So to make it come out right, the polls on Tuesday will be open from 8 a.m. Daylight Time, to 9 p.m. Daylight Time.

What this means, of course, is that commuters will have to get up earlier before rushing off to catch a train. It also means that candidates will have to stay up later to find out who won.

Early Thursday evening, a man and a woman were slightly injured following a two-car collision at the intersection of Township Police charged Mrs. Ruth Popofsky, 44, of Trenton, with failing to obey a Ewing Street stop sign. She received fractures to two ribs and lacerations of her forehead when her car was struck on the left front by another driven by Frank A. Mazzella, 38, 270 N. Harrison Street. Mrs. Mazzella, driving a 1965 car on Valley Road, told police he tried to veer to the right but was unable to avoid an accident. He received contusions of the left arm and forearm. The entire front end of his car was damaged.

MAILBOX A GO-GO

Latest juvenile Pastime. During the past month and even longer, Township police report a rash of stolen and damaged mailboxes. They add they believe it is the work of juvenile boys driving around in the Township, especially on weekends.

Most frequently visited are the outlying areas of Mt. Lucas, Poor Farm and Herrontown Road and Edgemoor Road. Tuesday morning, a Mt. Lucas resident came to police headquarters to report his mailbox stolen for the third time in a single week. One Herrontown resident, police said, has had his box taken four times in a period stretching back six months.

"It's been going on pretty heavy about a month now," police said. "Kids are riding around grabbing mailboxes and then throwing them in fields. They seem to be making a big curve up Mt. Lucas, across Poor Farm Road and down Herrontown."

On a few occasions, police report mailboxes being blown apart by cherry bombs. It's pretty rough on the victims. They don't know whether to go out and buy a new one or wait, hoping their old one will turn up in some field. In the meantime, the post office won't deliver their mail."

ARE GIRLS SMARTER?

(Or Just Work Harder?)
The boys always trail the girls," said John McKenna, Township superintendent of schools, as he scanned the list of Township students on the latest Princeton High School honor roll, and read the tally to the Board of Education Thursday night.

In the last marking period, 175 Township boys and girls made the honor roll, more freshmen than anybody else (60) with the seniors trailing in with 37.

The lone exception to the boy-girl ratio is in the sophomore class where 23 boys made the honor roll and only 15 girls.

The picture is the same, only in reverse, when Dr. McKenna counts the failures: Always more boys than girls. Actually, there were only 42 failures in the whole four classes, and these mean failures for the marking period only, not for a course.

"Most of these are boys who fall in love in the spring and stop working," Dr. McKenna quipped.

"Why not make a study of these failures, subject to subject," suggested Board member David Brodsky and Dr. McKenna, agreeing that it would be a good idea, said he would start one.

Safety-minded members of the PTA expressed to the Board their concern about cars on the Valley Road playing fields, and Board members added their own concern about the litter left by individuals and teams who use the field.

"Younger adult citizens drive cars across our diamond," remarked Dr. McKenna, adding that this particular form of activity enraged him when he thought of the care and loving attention given to that diamond.

The Township has $30,801 left in its budget for the rest of the fiscal year, as of May 18. Usually, the amount is about $20,000, but this year, the Board over-estimated the amount owed the Borough for high school tuition. Teachers' salaries account for the rest.

Miss Virginia Euell and Miss Elaine Williams, of the Township teaching staff, have received summer study grants.

WHO'S THE COURT FAVORITE? The King? Well, that's obvious: it's Johnny Drummmond and the Queen, of course, is Peggy Anderson, both elected by popular acclaim at the West Windsor PTA Fair Saturday. The court attendant in the middle, the one who did the actual crowning of the winners, is Cosma Iacovazzi.

Topics Of The Town

Miss Euell has a National Science Foundation grant to study physics at the University of California and Miss Williams will attend the French Institute at St. Anselm's College under a National Defense Education Act award.

"This is the first time Township teachers have received grants," Dr. McKenna said.

Each Township school child will be allowed to take library books home when school closes in June. On two mornings in the course of the summer, school libraries will be open so that children can take back the books they have read and check out new ones.

The Community Park library will be open daily throughout the summer.

COUNT THE MONEY!

Fair Grosses $3,000. Boys and girls from West Windsor who graduate from Princeton High School will benefit from the $2,000 gross take at the West Windsor PTA Fair on Saturday. The Fair took in $89 in quarters from one "two-overhead" project (voting for King and Queen) and other events were proportionately profitable, although a Teen Tent with a live jug band got the teen freer. Next year, the teens may be on their own.

Each year, the West Windsor PTA uses its Fair profits for school library books and for scholarship money presented to West Windsor boys or girls who have gone the full four years at Princeton High. The money may be used in any way that will advance the student's education; it does not have to be used for college.

In 1964 and 1963, the PTA awarded two $250 scholarships from its fund.

NO CONDEMNATION

Housing Talks in Progress. The Borough Housing Authority and Charles LaPlaca may yet reach an agreement on the sale of Mr. LaPlaca's North Harrison Street land to the Authority for a public housing project.

"A tentative agreement has been reached," said Authority counsel Thomas Cook this week, "and we believe we can achieve a fair compromise between our appraisal and Mr. LaPlaca's."

Two conditions remain to be met, Mr. Cook said, and the final agreement will not be announced for two or three weeks.

The Authority announced on April 27 that Mr. Cook had filed condemnation papers in Superior Court and said into court the $63,000 that is the assessed valuation of the land. On May 21 — last Friday — (the court was to appoint three commissioners who would decide the final amount of payment. This hearing has now been adjourned because negotiations are in progress, and has been re-scheduled for July in case no agreement is reached.

STORE ALARM TRIPPED

By Cat Burglar. When Borough police received a 6:30 call Wednesday night from The Celler, a liquor store next door, that the alarm in David's Market, 172 Nassau Street, was sounding, they placed a man at both entrances to seal any escape route. But before they could enter the store, they first had to travel to New Brunswick to notify the manager and get him to open the store.

Once inside, the police found a kitchen around, trying to get out. "The kitchen apparently broke the alarm system's 'radar seal,'" said Borough Chief Peter J. McMahon.

Other miscellaneous items in the Borough police docket last week: a power lawn mower belonging to Seymour Goodheart, 175 Prospect Avenue, stolen from a rear garage; four parking meter heads broken from their stands on William Street; a package of dry cleaning stolen from the rear porch of William Phillips, 53 Wilton Street, containing a jacket and two pair of slacks valued at $73.50; a left front car window broken by a stone while it was parked in the driveway at 60 Murray Place, reported by owner Bruce Ehart, and two small fires.

One was an awning fire at Landau's, 114 Nassau Street, a women's clothing store. It was

The second was an electrical fire in Palmer Labs reported at 2:40 Tuesday morning. There, the destroyed an auxiliary power supply unit in a cyclotron room. According to the firemen, one student was working in the room at the time but the cause of the blaze could not be determined.

THREE LICENSES REVOKED
By Township Magistrate, Glen R. Miller Jr., Township Magistrate revoked for 30 days last week the licenses of three Princeton area drivers, all of whom were accused of speeding in a 50-mile-an-hour zone. They are Peter B. Foster, 17, 656 Prospect Avenue, who was also fined $22; Bruce C. Edmunds, 17, Provincetown Road, fined $21; and Richard Reisser Jr., 36, of Pennington, fined $16 for speeding in a 25-mile zone. Eleanor V. Dearborn, 55, Scott Avenue, Princeton Junction, paid $23.

Four others were each fined $12 for stop sign violations. They are Jean R. Adams, 35, 124 Washington Road; Aaron Mattson, 64, 47 Leigh Avenue; Alice K. Lowey, 64, 1 Evelyn Place; and Mrs. Yakko Tamashiro, 27, 41 Madison Street.

Paul Wooten, 17, 14 Witherspoon Lane, paid $10 on a careless driving charge. In Princeton Borough traffic court Monday, Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. revoked for 45 days the licenses of Edwin B. Williams, 18, 71 Clay Street, and fined him $23 as well. Williams paid a second time of $10 for driving with an unilluminated license plate.

Fined $15 were Betty N. Harrison, 55, 9 Battle Road, careless driving; Albert M. Underwood, 18, 39 Quarry Street, unlicensed driver; Elvira R. Tamasi, 44, 36 Willow Street, failing to yield the right of way at an intersection; and Stanley A. Ewing, 21, 16 Leigh Avenue, driving an unsafe vehicle.

Also, Mrs. Ruth M. Dolby, 29, 400 Devereux Avenue, $10, no license and registration in possession, and Richard G. Morgan, 21, Foulke Hall, Princeton University, $5, obstructing the passage of traffic.

In criminal court, James Moore of 80 Clay Street was fined $15 and $10 costs for assault. Evelyn Moore, his wife and the complainant, accused the defendant of slapping her in the face.

In a session of Merce Court, William Saunders, of Berrien Court, was charged with stealing items from the Graduate School on February 11. He was placed on probation for two years by Judge Clifton C. Bennett and ordered to make restitution within 30 days.

TO SPEND HALF MILLION
On County Road Work, Mercer County plans to spend about $571,000 from its proposed $3.6 million bond issue to highway reconstruction. There will be six projects in the Princeton area.

The county will spend $36,000 to resurface Carter Road from Carson Road to Route 209 in Lawrence Township and build new shoulders. Washington Road in Kensington Road from Route 29 to a point a half-mile east will be resurfaced from Fallow Drive to Bear Tavern Road and the shoulder will be reconstructed at a cost of $20,000. Also, Mercerville - Edinburg Road from Quaker Bridge

From Pratts to Planes

Leater Stalter, well-known Trenton auctioneer, will conduct the auction of the annual Princeton Hospital Fair at Community Park on June 5 and items on the block will range from a new sailing plane to a pair of grand pianos.

Other items the fine planer will include are a water color painted by Julian Garney, an Oriental rug, outdoor furniture, a matching arm chairs and a suite of French provincial bedroom furniture. Further donations are requested and may be made to Mr. Charles Campbell at 921-6015.

Road to a point 4,500 feet east in Hamilton Township will get new 12-level-wide shoulders at a cost of $40,000. The county will allocate $56,000 for a 15-foot shoulder on the west end of Edinburg-Dutch Neck Road from Bridgeway Run to Coover Road in West Windsor Township.

The north shoulder of Grover's Mill Road from a point just south of Scotch Drive to Grover's Mill point in West Windsor will be widened for a $100,000 expenditure. Edin Road from Rensselaer Road to Route 206 in the Borough will be widened through the construction of three-foot wide shoulders and the existing road will be resurfaced for $57,000. As part of its bond issue, the county freeholders also will spend $200,000 for park land acquisition. The allocation brings the total to $650,000 for this purpose over the next three years.

FOUR LOSE LICENSES

On Police, Four Princeton area motorists have had their licenses suspended under the State's Point System.

They are James Mangilt, 35, Cranbury Circle, Cranbury; Raymond Sibert Jr., 24, 180 Washington Road; Kenneth P. Oliver, 20, Old Cranbury Road, Cranbury; all three months; and Fred C. Rhodes, 21, 14 Horner Lane, Rhoades.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

By St. Paul's PTA, Mrs. Frederick Lepper has been installed as the new president of the St. Paul's PTA.

The organization's other new officers are Mrs. James O'Malley, first vice-president; Mrs. Theodore Tams, second vice-president; Mrs. Wilson Coe, third vice-president; Mrs. David Krahenbuehl, recording secretary; Mrs. Felix Perre, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Richard Judge, treasurer.

August Licer, Grand Knight, of the Knights of Columbus Council 630, and John Golden, president of the Home Association, presented Mrs. O'Malley with a gift of $1,000 of the PTA's final meeting of the year. A fourth of the donation has been set aside for the school library in recognition of the work done by Mrs. David Plank.

Entertainment at the meeting included songs by Ann Goeke, recipient of the vocal scholarship to Villa Victoria Academy, and the girls choir under the direction of Sister Mary Cecelia sang a hymn. Mrs. John B. McNally, regional president of the diocese of Princeton, conducted the installation ceremony, and Father Edward C. Henry, pastor of the school, delivered the invocation.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

By the Club, The Wilson College Club of Trenton - Princeton has elected Susan Hagerty of Cranbury vice-president and Jacqueline Gratlan of Princeton secretary.

Serving out unexpired terms are Mrs. Anthony Lucarelli, president, and Isabelle Stouffer, treasurer, both of Princeton, and Dolores Mule of Trenton, head of publicity. Assisting Miss Mule in Princeton is Mrs. Lefferts A. Loocher.

Yvonne Boyles of Princeton is the retiring vice-president and Mrs. Edward J. Bajor of Trenton is the former secretary. The club held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. George Dubell of Hightstown, who was assisted in the preparation of a buffet supper by Mrs. Leslie W. Perrine of Cranbury.

TO HONOR HISTORIANS

At Moore's Dinner, The New Jersey Historical Society will hold its ninth annual dinner at Moore's Thursday night to honor two Princeton men on the occasion.

The society will present awards for distinguished contributions to Dr. Richard M. Huber and Dr. Wharton J. Lane, editors of "The New Jersey Historical Society," which was published in cooperation with the State Tercentenary Commission. Each man will receive an engraved sterling tray.

Thomas Jefferson Wortenhaker is a former winner of the award.

Dr. Huber and Dr. Lane were responsible for editing 26 volumes on New Jersey history written by a group of distinguished scholars during the past year. Publication of the series has been completed recently, including five supplemental volumes.

Governor and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes and the trustees of the Historical Society will be hosts at the dinner to 200 members and guests. Dr. William T. Alderson Jr. of Nashville, Tenn., will be the guest speaker.

Dr. Alderson is the director of the American Association for State and Local History. A former resident of New Jersey, he is chairman of the Tennessee Historical Commission and is also the state librarian.

MORE BOROUGH DITCHES?

It's Possible. Just about the time Public Service is finished digging up Nassau Street, it is possible the Bell Telephone people may engage in some trench digging of their own, this one to stake from Wiggins and Moore to the intersection of Elm and Cleveland Lane.

When will this all take place? According to Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley, if the telephone company decides to go ahead with the project, "they are talking in terms of this summer."

One phase of this excavation is already underway. At the corner of Wiggins and Moore Street, a huge underground manhole is being constructed. At the same time, diggings for a trench, originating a block away at Nassau and Moore which will connect to the manhole, is in progress. This is expected to be completed by June 5, according to Mr. Cawley.

The origin of the trench is directly across the street from a brick building at 201 Nassau Street. Now a professional off-

The trench will house conduit tubes containing additional telephone lines. Forced to expand for the same reason, that confronted Public Service, the telephone company found that its existing lines were inadequate in the face of the continued growth of Princeton, particularly in the number of

Beauty ON THE SQUARE
By Arimbédies (Berard)

If you come to our salon at 69 Palmer Square West, there is still time to invest in Summer Beauty Insurance - to have and enjoy one of our Custom Permanents.

What makes our Permanents so different? Many things - but to quote a few, one attractive teenager said, "There isn't anything like a Jumbo Curl Permanent to make my hair manageable at the beach or on a date." A smart young woman said, "I like the scientific idea of having vital proteins infused into my hair during the waving process."

A delightful elderly lady takes another point of view. "Let the young people have their wide waves and Body Permanents - I like the strong tight curl that you have been giving me, simply because my hair needs it!"

It takes a lot of judgement and experience to cater to such diverse tastes, but we take pride in doing it well. Be drop in at THE TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR & COSMETIC SHOP, 69 Palmer Square West, or call 924-3845 for an appointment.

VAN DE VELDE RESIGNS

From Shade Tree Group
Robert van de Velde has submitted to Mayor Henry Patterson his resignation as a member of the Shade Tree Commission.

Mr. van de Velde, a member of the faculty of the Woodrow Wilson School, is resigning in order to join a new volunteer citizens group whose members will study New Jersey's problems "in depth."

"He has been a valuable member of the Shade Tree Commission," commented Mayor Patterson, in announcing the resignation. Mr. van de Velde has envisioned Commission meetings by arguing variety in shade trees usage. He likes to see different kinds of trees planted in unorthodox ways.

No successor to Mr. van de Velde has been named.

SNOW WHITE IN FRENCH

Presented by Aapari Students. A group of French students presented a French version of "Snow White" at the Aapari School of Dance on Saturday.

The play was adapted by Christine Kate Mason, the students' teacher. Sarah Brett-Smith played the title role and Allan Bates was cast as the prince.

In supporting roles were Diane Ely, Deborah Spears, Dora Levy, Peter Stein, the seven dwarfs were played by Lisa Bacheider, Elisabeth Bennett, Kristin Blumenfeld, Helen Brett-Smith, Rosalind Pastell, William Gaton and Noah Levy. Others who took part were Christina Bacheider, Nadia Blumenfeld, Kim Cunningham, Erika Edelman, Janet Fleumer, Barbara Gaston, Ann Minot and Sally Minot. Jeremy Bonner designed the scenery.

PRINCETON GIRL NAMED

At Young GOP Session, Miss Sandra Jefferson was elected an associate vice-chairman of the Young Republicans of New Jersey at the annual convention held in Wildwood. She is vice-chairman of the Mercer County Young Republicans.

Clark Allen of Hunterdon County was elected state chairman, defeating the re-election bid of Richard Pfeiffer of Metuchen-Windesore. He won by a compromise decision, he won by a narrow vote through a liberal-moderate coalition.

Miss Mary Noreen Kesley of Union County won the title of Miss New Jersey Y.R. A member of the Princeton contingent, Miss Jean Marie Glue of Ewing was named runner up. Philip Lloyd is chairman of the Mercer County Young Republicans.

KIDS & COOKOUTS

YMCA Picnic Set. An All-star Midget Baseball game and family picnic are planned for the annual YMCA Memorial Day program, to be held on Monday at the YMCA field. Daniel Mazarella and Joseph McCusker of the adult committee are co-chairmen.

Midget baseball begins at 1 p.m. The family picnic combines a family swim from 3 to 5 followed by games, races, contests and group singing around the fire.

All YMCA families and their friends are welcome. Participants are asked to bring their own picnic cookout supplies and grills. Charcoal and beverages will be provided by the committee.

The activities will include softball games and volleyball for adults; a peanut hunt, sack races and running races for children. Families planning to attend are asked to notify the YMCA office.

RARE BOOKS ON VIEW

At Scheide Library Open: Princeton University honored Mr. and Mrs. William H. Scheide of Princeton at a luncheon last week as it opened the Scheide Library.

The new room adjoins the 1936 and is a director of the rare book rooms in Firestone and is a member of the collection of the Princeton University library. His collection was moved to Princeton in 1936 from the Scheide house in Titusville, Pa.

Disturbed by Bitterness.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Before and since the May 18 Public Hearing on the School Regionalization Plan, I have been disturbed by the expressions of rancor and bitterness between the Borough and Township. We do not encourage in social, business, shopping, banking, religious, recreation, club, good works and other such activities according to our residence in Township or Borough.

I believe most persons think of themselves as citizens of Princeton and are proud of it. Princeton is known for its tolerance, its friendliness to those from foreign lands its continuing and not self-effacing efforts for integration, the work of its variety of citizens with the hopes of making our country and the world a better place in which to live, and its helping hand to those in need. To these ends we are hoping and trying to guide our children.

May I once more make a plea that we try to decide this question of regionalization of the two school systems on what is the best education for all our children, today, tomorrow, and as nearly as we can predict in the future. Study the plan, question it, make suggestions and then weigh it on its merits, taking all aspects into consideration.

PTA Backs Merger.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The following statement was adopted by the Board of the Borough Elementary Schools Parent-Teachers Association at a meeting held May 20 at the Nassau Street School.

"As members of the Board of the Princeton Elementary Schools Parent - Teachers Association we have carefully considered the report Public Education in Princeton issued in March by the Boards of Education of Princeton Borough and Princeton Township. We are convinced of the necessity of a prompt unification of the school systems of the Township and Borough."

"Therefore as a Board we support both the Princeton Borough Board of Education and the Borough Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Chester H. Stroup, in their recommendation for a merger of the Princeton Borough and the Princeton Township School Systems."

MRS. SHELDON JUDSON
President, Borough Elementary P.T.A.

Cyclists Break Laws.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The recent accident triggered by a bicycle rider failing to stop at a stop sign should have alerted Princeton cyclists to the wisdom of obeying the rules of the road. The law is that bicycle riders "shall be granted all of the rights and shall be subject to all of the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle as required by the New Jersey Motor Vehicle and Traffic Regulations except those provisions which by their nature do not apply." (Driver Manual, p. 119).

But Princeton cyclists are more (yes!) than Princeton motorists in their disregard for traffic laws. Rarely do they stop at stop signs. As a rule of thumb they stop at red lights ONLY when they would be forced to cross a steady stream of traffic—but not when they can squeeze around the corner right or left, in the latter case travelling on the wrong side of the road.

A schoolgirl pedals up Bayard Lane on the left almost every morning (suicidal propensity?) while a patrolman is situated in full view at the intersection of Bayard and Birch. Cyclists have been seen frequently to ride on sidewalks, downtown, in the center instead of the right of traffic lanes, pop out of driveways without looking, travel at night without lights, ignore school bus stop lights, etc.

We talk about civil disobedience these days, but surely we don't intend to encourage anyone to make a habit of it. Laws are being broken right under the eyes of Princeton's Finest.

Yet I have never heard or read of a Princeton cyclist being given a traffic summons or even a warning.

This kind of training in lawlessness is not what we owe our children and justice, is it?

I suggest a concentrated campaign to create good cycling and driving habits through school and home indoctrination and through adult example. If we bicycles were issued numbered licenses for a nominal fee, it would be easier to report flagrant violators while they are still alive to profit from a safety lecture by a policeman or magistrate.

Obituaries

George F. Cahill, 63, of 10 Polham Street died May 24 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. He was the husband of Mrs. Anne A. Cahill.

Born in Greenwich, Conn., Mr. Cahill lived in Princeton for 58 years. After retiring from the Princeton Post Office, where he was superintendent of mails, he was employed at the Firstline Library. He was post commander and adjutant of Post 16, American Legion, a member of Mercury Engine Company No. 1 and a former fire chief.

He served in the Navy during World War II and was a former member of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. He belonged to the Holy Name Society of St. Paul's Church.

Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Joseph G. Weir of Coi Coh, Conn.

The service will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday in St. Paul's Church, with interment in the Holy Name cemetery.

Friends may call between 7 and 9 p.m. Thursday at the Mother Funeral Home, 40 Vandewater Avenue. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be sent to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Christopher C. West, 68, of 1839 New Road, Monmouth Junction, died May 18 in Princeton Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Gertrude West. Also surviving are a daughter, Flora, and a brother, Harry, both of Monmouth Junction.

The service was held in New Brunswick, interment was in Franklin Memorial Park.

Mrs. Minetta R. Martinette, 72, died May 18 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anne Lowe of 58 Lafayette Avenue, Hopewell. She was a former Trenton resident.

Also surviving are two sons, Charles M. Martinette of Pennsylvania and John R. Martinette of Hollywood, Fla., and eight grandchildren.

The service was held in Hopewell, the Rev. James Lyan of the Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Riverview Cemetery.

Mrs. Ann L. Porter, 57, of Cherry Valley Road, died May 20 in Princeton Hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident. She was the widow of Jesse L. Porter.

Born in Glenside, Pa., Mrs. Porter lived in Princeton for 30 years. She was president of Porter-Mathews Company.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Bessie K. Thorn of Cherry Hill, and nieces and nephews.

The service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. Robert R. Spears Jr. officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family, under the direction of the Kinship Funeral Home.

Memorial gifts may be sent to the Princeton Hospital Building Fund.

Mrs. Helen H. Collings, 54, of 115 Mountain Avenue, died May 23 in Princeton Hospital. She was the wife of Jefferson D. Collings.

A lifelong Princeton resident, Mrs. Collings was a member of the Princeton Methodist Church.

Also surviving are a son, Jefferson D. Collings Jr. of Jefferson, two daughters, Mrs. Carol V. Clevenger and Mrs. Joyce L. Laird, two grandchildren, her mother, Mrs. Catherine L. Hen-derston; three brothers, Bertram, Arthur and John Henderson all of Princeton.

SPORTS In Princeton

TINDALL HITS 112-10

In Javelin for PHS, Princeton High Schooler also had the victory in the 100-yard dash Monday was highlighted by his triumph in the Javelin when sophomore Dan Tindall hurled the spear 182-10, top effort for the Little Tigers this year. The Blue and White Cus ended its dual meet competition with a fine 10-1 mark, an upset victory by Somerville being the only blot.

Princeton's two top weightmen, Andy Kuller and Carl DeCavalcante led sweeps in the shot and discus. Kuller capturing the shot and DeCavalcante the discus. That helped overcome a brief 23-22 loss which Hamilton (6-3) had gained when it placed first in the 100, 220, and 440.

Carl Giese snapped the Hornets string in the run and jump events by taking the half mile and teammate Jay Gallagher was an easy winner in his specialty, the mile. As usual, Ben Bennett captured the low hurdles and Bill Aiken the high. Roger Madden continued to display winning form in the broad jump, taking that event with a leap of 20-10½. Finishing second was Vince Bocanassa, a spot he also claimed in the 220 and high jump.

though it wasn't too many games this season, the Princeton High Schooler also had the satisfaction Monday of getting back at Hamilton's Ernie Sauer who had tossed a no-hitter at it earlier this spring. The Little Tigers jumped on Sauer for four runs in the fourth to win, 5 to 2. It was their fourth victory against 11 setbacks.

Going in to the contest with a 10-5 record, the visiting Hornets were set down by Chris Fischer (2-5) who pitched one of the best games of his career. Chris limited the losers to four hits, struck out seven and walked three, going the distance.

lance. Hamilton hurt its own chances by committing five bobbles.

Two of those errors landed around Wayne Martin's double in the second produced Princeton's first run. In its big inning, PHS scored on a mish-mash of walks and three Hamilton errors, one permitting two runs to score. Two solid offensive blows in the upstairs were singled by Curt Mitchell and Ken Ward.

Also contributing to victory was the tightness of the Little Tiger defense. Coach Harry Zolitz's squad was charged with only two errors and neither did any damage, as both Hamilton runs were earned.

BOWLING NOTES Claridge Wins Roll Off.

Claridge won the roll off, 10-5, in the final standing, 10-5. Nine points behind in second place was Smith Bundry, followed by Jefferson Plumbing, 58; Nassau-Conover, 56; Merritt, 54; and Thorne Pharmacy, 52. Mann Electric and N.J. Mann Real Estate, each with 50 points, were tied for seventh place in the 12-team league.

In the Nassau League, Tiger Garage won its play-off with Bear Brook. The winners rolled games of 782-1,002-552, compared to 888-883-849 for the losers.

Scoring for that sizzling 1,002 game: Joe Baldino, 247; Nick Squitelli, 211; Bob Scullery, 205; Pros Aschbacher, 187; and Red Holmes, 152. Leo Malorino's 204 was the high single game rolled by Bear Brook.

MULCHES SAVE WATER — Mulches are one of the best ways to protect your shrubs and trees during periods of dry weather. The watering time you save will repay many times over the cost of additional mulching materials such as peat moss, salt hay, fir bark, wood chips, etc. Don't skimp; mulch heavily. It could well mean the difference between a plant that lives and one that dies.

STILL TIME TO PLANT — Many people have asked us if it is too late to plant. Healthy plants, grown either in containers or balled and burlapped and properly cared for under a protective nursery shade area can be planted at any time.

TAKE ONE FAT GOOSE...
Goose grease used to be found in most medicine chests. For a long time, it was a common remedy for chest colds and pneumonia. The high mortality rate of lung patients proves how ineffective this remedy was. Modern medications—particularly the antibiotics—have drastically reduced the death toll of pneumonia victims, shortened hospital stays and relieved untold pain and suffering. So, don't medicate yourself. Let your physician do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then come to us for any medications he may recommend.

News Of The CHURCHES

DR. JOHNSTON TO SPEAK
At University Chapel. The Rev. Dr. George Johnston, professor of New Testament at McGill University, Montreal, will preach at 11 this Sunday in Princeton University Chapel.

Dr. Johnston, a native of Scotland, is also principal of United Theological College (United Church of Canada), in Montreal. He is the author of "The Doctrine of the Church in the New Testament" and "The Secrets of the Kingdom."

He was educated at the University of Glasgow, which awarded his master's degree with honors in 1906. He received his bachelor of divinity in 1908 and an honorary doctor of divinity degree in 1940. He received his doctorate from Cambridge in 1941.

He is former pastor in the Church of Scotland at St. Andrews, Fife, and a former army chaplain in Germany. In Canada, Dr. Johnston has been supervising minister of new pastoral churches in Ontario. From 1952 to 1956 he was professor of New Testament at Emmanuel College, Toronto.

WSSCS TO HOLD PICNIC
Next Thursday. The annual picnic of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Princeton Methodist Church will be held at 6 p.m. next Thursday, June 6, at the home of Mrs. Guy Woodward, 239 Riverside Drive.

Members of the planning committee are Mrs. Edward McColl, Mrs. Robert Simpson and Mrs. J. L. Burns. St. Miss Shirley Johnson, membership chairman, will conduct the drawing for names of new circles.

Committee appointments announced by Mrs. Harvey Hook, president, are: Mrs. Edward McColl, fellowship; Mrs. T. Roba Webb, UCCW representative; Mrs. Irene S. Neils, finance; Mrs. Donald Almy, financial secretary; and Mrs. L. E. Burns Jr., Princeton hospital representative.

TRUSTEES ELECTED
At Princeton Methodist. Trustees named at the Quarterly Conference of Princeton Methodist Church are Irving Newell, Guy Woodward and Arthur Benson. All are members of the Class of 1958.

The nominating committee elected for next year is composed of Hartwell Calcutt, Harold, and Mrs. L. E. Burns Jr. The Rev. Kenneth Danenhauer of Calvary Baptist is on a three-month leave to study religious communities and activities in Europe.

Pastoral Change. The Rev. James W. Marshall of Pennington Methodist Church will be officiating in mid-June to assume charge of the Milltown (N.J.) Methodist Church. The Rev. Marshall has served the 550-member congregation in Pennington for 10 years. The Milltown church numbers nearly 1,000 members.

Obituaries

News Of The THEATRES

DANCERS, ALL "Sleeping Beauty." Quantities of anovels, autumn leaves and summer flowers will shower down on the McCarter stage in the course of "The Sleeping Beauty," to be presented Friday at 8:30 and Saturday at 2:30 as the Princeton Ballet Society's spring offering.

Star of the show will be Eva Maxwell as the Princess Aurora, sent into sleep by the wicked curse of Carabosse. Miss Maxwell is a tenth-grader from Highland Park.

With her in the cast will be Mary Louise Foote as the Queen, Arthur Litrow as the King, Sarah Lithgow as the White Bird and L. Wendell Estey as the Major Domo. Six "Senior Fairies" will assist Aurora. They are Mary Lou Attenborough, Peggy Bayer, Meryl Clamen, Jane deLaurie, Therese Donahue and Linda Hart. When Therese Donahue dances her solo, her Page will be her young daughter, Shannon Bishop.

Daddy Bishop will be the wicked Carabosse and Margery Bart, Mary Bishop, Natalie Huston and Karen Wagner will be her attendant Damsels. Train Benders, Young Princesses (eight), Gypsies and Peasants (17) and a train of half a dozen Small Fairies will dance important roles.

Deborah Smith as Red Riding Hood and Wayne Efron as the Wolf will prance with the White Cat and Puss 'n Boots in the fairy tale scenes.

In the Four Seasons part alone, there are 80 young — very young, in many cases — dancers. All in all, 150 dancers have been assembled for "The Sleeping Beauty."

READY FOR FALL? McCarter is a meaty season of Shakespeare, Shaw, Brecht and Ibsen will occupy theatre-goers next fall when they line up at the McCarter box-office for the 1963 Fall Drama Series. "Mother Courage" — the Bertolt Brecht drama, will launch the season on Friday, October 4, followed by Shakespeare's "Coriolanus," Bernard Shaw's "Major Barbara" and Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People."

"The 'Coriolanus' production is the one that will be presented during the summer by the Great Lakes Shakespeare Festival in Lakewood, Ohio as part of the exchange of productions arranged this spring between McCarter and Lakeside and Lakeview."

It is still too early to announce names, but Arthur Litrow executive director of McCarter and impresario of the Great Lakes Festival, says that many members of the DUAL DISGUISE. Richard Johnson, as Jenny the dashing highwayman, turns up as a ball disguised as a rich sea captain to woo a wealthy widow, who is really penniless Moll Flanders, played by Kim Novak in "The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders," now at the Garden Theatre.

A graduate of Yale and the Yale Drama School, Mr. Hemphill came to McCarter in the fall of 1960 as technical director for the APA company. Since the fall of 1965, he has been Associate Producer for Production, that is, responsible for everything technical that goes on behind the footlights.

STRITCH WILL STAR

In "King and I," Elaine Stritch will sing the Gertrude Lawrence role of Anna, in the Lambertville Music Circus production of "The King and I" which will open the summer for the big tent on Saturday at 9:30.

It will run through Sunday, June 6, with performances at 8:30, Tuesday through Friday, and performances on Saturday, June 5 at 6 and 9:30.

Joining Miss Stritch in the cast will be Norita Cibelli as the King of Siam; Patricia Welting as Tuptim; Robert Roman, Martin Gregg, Kenneth Goddahl, Louis Criscuolo, Claude Horton and Terry Saunders.

The Oscar Hammerstein musical was adapted from "Anna and the King of Siam," the novel about the English widow who teaches the royal princes and princesses of Siam.

SEE AND COMPARE

"Hostage" Coming. If you drive across the river to see the Bucks County Playhouse production of Brendan Behan's "The Hostage," you can catch it again, starting Friday, June 4, in the Princeton Community Players' production at Murray Theatre.

Behan's rowdy comedy will play three week-ends, closing on Sunday, June 13.

Leo J. Cohen will direct a cast including Trevor Owens and Louis Ann Cohen as the couple who run the lodging house. Philip Paul and Clare Reidy as the British soldier and the servant girl and Irene Rosenberg and Anne Schmitt as the "lovable worker" and her parson.

Bonny Sandlin and Jay Kerr will spell each other at the piano. Piano? Ah, yes, "The Hostage" is, among other things, a musical comedy with more than 20 songs and dances.

It's all about a young British soldier, captured by the Irish Republican Army and held as "hostage" for an IRA member scheduled to hang for shooting a policeman. It's a mad, wild, Irish play, says Community Players, and indeed, when Behan was alive, he used to leap to the stage and plunge right in with all the seters.

For Community Players, who's playing GARDEN

The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders, now playing. This version of the Daniel Defoe classic has been termed "Tom Jones" with a cleavage.

The year is 1720, a bawdy, free-swinging time in Old England. Kim Novak is the flirtatious orphan, Moll Flanders, who survives an almost ruinous road from rags to riches. She is essentially the happy whore, first seduced in the linen closet by the mayor's son.

Richard Johnson, a Shakespearean actor, is Jenny, the handsome highwayman. Angela Lansbury appears as Lady Bystone and Italian film director Vittorio De Sica is Lady Bystone's lover.

Also in the cast are Lili Palmer and George Sanders. The acting around Kim Novak is so complete that she is swept along into her best portrayal to date.

PLAYHOUSE

Dr. No and From Russia With Love (through Sat.) See review below.

Mirage (starts Sunday) A suspense film starring Gregory Peck as an amnesia victim pursued by would-be murderers whose identity and motive for killing him are as obscure to him as his own past. Somewhere in that blanketed area of his mind lie the clues.

A complicated but fascinating guessing game is set in motion as the lights suddenly go out all over a Manhattan skyscraper. Peck finds himself in the company of a beautiful woman, Diane Baker, who claims to know him. Later a man breaks into Peck's apartment and threatens to kill him unless he flies to the Barbados with a mysterious suitcase. Walter Matthau appears as a service detective hired by Peck. Lots of excitement and intrigue.

IT EVEN HAS A PORCH! The King Kamper trailer has a covered patio, providing a shady spot to rest a day's 500-mile drive. You may even buy extra canvas "walls" that turn the porch into an extra room. William Harris, owner of the Atlantic Station on Route 266, and Mrs. A. D. Duba, who has taken her family hundreds of miles with a King Kamper in her look over the specifications for the little trailer. (Staff Photo)

IT'S NEW To Us

HOME OR AWAY?

Try Both. Our away game this summer is with King Kamper, the tent-trailer-home-away-from-home on view and for sale at the Atlantic Gas Station on Route 266, left side going north from Princeton. With a King Kamper you can go anywhere with the whole family at practically no cost. Steps six (we think five is probably more comfortable, but maybe you have no choice), feeds an uncounted number and frisks you along the highways, light as a moth.

A King Kamper has a lightweight base with a taut canvas top like a sneaker. And cool! We were in one on a hot, sunny mid-afternoon, and it was like a garden summerhouse. The secret, we suspect, is in the spacious cross-ventilation: a broad, screened window is in each of the four sides of the Kamper, and the breezes just flow right in and flow right out again. If there is too much breeze, in a storm or whatever, you roll down the canvas flap, zip it shut tight with one of those sturdy zip-pers like the kind they use now on girls' dresses, and you're snug as a cabin.

Let's start from scratch. You're driving alone. People passing you think you have a broad-beamed boat hitched to your car. It's low flat on top and covered with a snug canvas. Little do they know, you reach a camp site, or perhaps a farmer's field. Lift up bow and stern, anchor them fast with three poles and there you are. It can be set up by one man in the dark, according to Mrs. A. D. Duba, who has traveled with husband and three children in a King Kamper for many a summer of Kamping.

There's an electric light that hooks into the special light you have already had installed in your car. Or, you can use one of those cozy camp lanterns. You reach into a cupboard under the little sink and the two-burner butane stove. In seconds, you have a hot dinner ready to eat in the snugness of the Kamper. Raining outside? Let it Pour!

The water tank under one of the beds holds 12 gallons. You filled it up out outside with the hose they had at the campground where you stayed yesterday, remember? The chemical toilet slides out from under one of the other beds. You wash away the grime of the day in warm water, steamed over the burner, and then you pack the kids to sleep in the two canvas cots slung at bow and stern like the top-most bunks in a double decker. They go off to sleep, and you sit on the beds down below and play Kansas City by night by lamplight with another camping couple who checked into the campground just after you did.

On a hot summer night, you can cook and wash dishes from outside. Yes, the stove and sink are accessible from outdoors when you zip back the whole window on that side of the Kamper. And the icebox is just to the right of the Kamper door, so you can open the door, reach in and take out cool drinks when you stop for lunch, without disturbing the Kamper, all folded for the road.

The Kamper we saw was natural "white" canvas, and we think that's probably why it was so cool: the white reflected the heat. However, you may have the upper in dark green. If you wish and there is a choice of six colors for the foundation: turquoise to match your car, tomato red, etc. Prices vary, depending on how many extras you want, but basically, you can have a Kamper for $900-$1,000.

STAY-AT-HOME?

For Patio Types. To help you resign yourself to staying home, Happy House offers a cast iron patio table which is also a brazier.

Cure to begin again? A cast iron patio table which is also a brazier. You lift out the 15-inch circle in the middle and there is a deep, black oval iron bowl with appropriate grilling and draft control. Lay your charcoal fire, replace a cast-iron grill, put your elbows on the white filigree cast iron, and hold the A-I sauce in readiness.

Because of the nature of cast-iron grilles, your steak may have a most unusual freeze pattern on the topside but, this only adds to the flavor. Table will seat four comfortably, six easily. Cost is $85.

Smaller budgets and smaller appetites will respond to Happy House's endearing little pot-belly stove, a replica of the real and true, standing about two feet high. Lift off the top half and do your barbecue or hibachi work. Replace. If you are serving coffee, use the old-fashioned stove - lift it to remove a three-inch disc in the top, and set down your coffee pot to keep hot. $19.95.

Another small outdoor cooker, round or rectangular, has a sliding heat control mechanism in addition to draft control. $16.95 (round) or $10.95 (rectangular).

If entertaining is big for you, by all means invest in Happy House's Thermolene cart. You get four dishes, clear plastic. Underlying them is a hot food, fill the tray with boiling water (yes: boiling water into a plastic tray. If you please! If your menu is cold, fill the tray with ice-cubes. Your dishes will be kept hot or cold for longer than you want the guests to stay, because Thermolene is very, very, inhospitable to temperature change.

The cart, white wrought iron, has brass ball rollers and a storage tray underneath. Costs $89.95.

Well, the number of things Happy House has for entertainment are without number. A complete set of napkins and cloths (paper) for a Hawaiian luau, and delicious strawberries and whipped cream, and a whole lemon parade, with complete napkins, place-mats and lemon glasses.

Plastic ice-cream bowls keep dessert for a long, long time and plastic soup bowls will

PRINCEY
Dr. No and From Russia With Love. He'll feature two touting tales of spies and conspiracies authored by Ian Fleming and starring Sean Connery as James Bond.

In "Dr. No," James Bond arrives in Jamaica to investigate the murderer of a British agent. He falls into a net of evil, masterminded by the brilliant Chinese scientist, Dr. No. There is a kidnapping, a cliff-side car crash, and a hair-raising escape in a speedboat with Ursula Andress... all in Technicolor.

Bond deliberately walks into a trap laid by Soviet agent Daniela Bianchi in "From Russia With Love." He's out to get the secret Russian decoder. His fantastic adventures played tongue-in-cheek, are spiced with intricate traps and fabulously beautiful women.

PLAYGROUND "SUCCESS"

At Garden Preview, Richard Hilliard's film "The Playground" drew audience comment ranging from "very good" to "excellent" at the three-day preview last week at the Garden Theatre. There were those who dissented. About 10% of the viewers returned comment cards.

From a box office point of view, Theatre Manager Richard Knight and Mr. Hilliard said the results were "very satisfactory." More customers attended the re-run of "Tom Jones," but "The Playground" held its own against the award-winning "Umbrellas of Cherbourg" and "A Stranger Knocks."

Independently produced by Mr. Hilliard, "The Playground" has been entered in the Berlin Film Festival.

A graduate of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and 1952, Mr. Hilliard began work on "The Playground" three years ago. The script, based on "My Brother, Death," by C.S. Lewis, was written by George Garrett, writer-director at Princeton University.

Mr. Hilliard now lives in New York City. His children, who live with their grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Potter of Lawrenceville Road, attend the Johnson Park School.

"KIRU" TO BE SHOWN
Japanese Classic: The Spring Locore Film Series at McCarter will conclude Wednesday, June 2, at 8 with "Kiru," the Japanese film made in 1900 by Akira Kurosawa.

The year's most moving film, was the way Time Magazine characterized "Kiru," and the New York Times, Cue and the Saturday Review called it one of the year's "ten best."

"Kiru," which means "to love," in Japanese, deals with the search for the meaning of life by a man who knows he has only a few more months to live.

McCarter's film series as a whole will end with the 1953 Alfred Hitchcock thriller "Vertigo" with James Stewart and Kim Novak. To be shown Friday, June 4, at 8.

Traditionally Speaking

In the shadow of Nassau Hall, this ring reflects tradition and stands as the Princeton mold's choice over the years. The center stone is of black onyx mounted in the heaviest of yellow gold mountings.

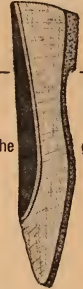

Variation on a Theme

The class ring takes on a new character of elegance and distinction. The handsome signet band engraved with school crest and class year was designed for the Princeton man who desires an exclusive ring with the ultimate in correctness.

French Dressing

The French, always up to something or other, have been squeezing heads of lettuce and pouring the juice into soap. The result, as you may have guessed, is lettuce-juice soap, now waiting for your bath at Marsh's 30 Nassau Street store.

Add to your bath the French tomato juice soap, appropriately blushing in color, and the old familiar English cucumber soap, too well, and emerge from the tub as fresh and crisp as—well, as a salad.

For table decor, Marsh brings to the Italians for the "tutti i Fiori" soap. Can you really pick out the scents of all the flowers?

No lettuce in this one.

It's New To Us

Keep soup hot or ice-cream cold depending on content, always depending on content.
Happy House also has wicker plate holders so that the wild west wind won't blow away your paper plate. Also helps in cutting steak; you don't saw through the plate to the table.

EMERALDS FOR ME

And Emeralds for Max. Yes, emeralds are for May, which means you'd better hurry up. LaVake, however, will sell you an emerald any day in the month. You feel you have to rush. We know the square-cut emerald set in a ring with a diamond on each side, and we saw three, each with stones of slightly different size, all in exquisite unostentatious taste.

The circle pin has diamond leaves and small emerald buds and the twist ring, which could be used either as a guard ring or as a wedding band, has two twisting strands, one of diamonds and one of emeralds.

Sapphires combine well with diamonds, too, in the LaVake engagement collection. Eight small diamonds surround a sapphire to make a little star ring which is quite enchanting. An oval sapphire has a frame of four emeralds. A sapphire pin is formed by joining three segments of sapphires and three diamonds in alternating arcs. The result is quite tailored, but if you like a bit of flair, you may have the segments combined in a swirl design.

Engagement variations have come back to soliciters of the old Tiffany setting, the kind that displays the stone itself to fullest advantage. One style has slim arms embracing the stone and grasping it from the far side. Another has almost straight sides extending from the setting, then curving down to make the circle of the ring. Incidentally, how about a really different engagement ring? LaVake suggests an eight karat rhodolite garnet, almost three-eighths of an inch in diameter, centered on each side by a small diamond. The rich, almost purplish depths of the stone and the light in a most dramatic way, and the austere setting enhances it even more. $500.

LaVake has a fine opal, good-sized and well set. Did you know that gold stones are difficult to find these days? Nobody wants to go into mining any more because there are more exciting roads to follow, so you'd better seize garnet and opal while you can.

Your wedding band might be any of two dozen gold designs, one as plain and wide as great-grandmother's, another combining various gold finishes and small diamonds in almost baroque richness.

Stide or graduate would welcome a LaVake watch. You can pay $25 or $10,000. Have about $45 for the watch that's hidden within a three-quarter inch gold mesh bracelet or the tailored sleeve of the turquoise link watch bracelet with its combination of shiny and Florentine finish.

MUSIC In Princeton

HARSANYI NAMED
To Philadelphia Group
Nicholas Harsanyi, director of the Princeton Symphony and the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, has been named director of the Philadelphia Chamber Orchestra, replacing Asshel Brusilow, who has resigned to form a new chamber group.

Members of the Philadelphia chamber ensemble will come largely from the Princeton Chamber Orchestra. The new group will have 21 members.

The Philadelphia Chamber Orchestra used to be made up of Philadelphia Orchestra players; however, a new "chamber orchestra" has musicians who belong to the orchestra from playing with other groups.

TO GIVE CONCERT

At St. Andrew's. A concert of sacred music will be given at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 30, by the Wilkesboro Street Presbyterian Church Choir at St.
Andrew's Presbyterian Church,
Leon J. De Noto will direct.

The program includes "Jessus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, Mendelssohn's "Lift Thine Eyes" and "He Is Watching Over Israel," Movart's "Gloria" from the Twelfth Mass and Brahms' "How Lonely is Thy Dwelling Place."

Also on the program is a contribution by the director, "Son-of-Prise," first performed last year by the choir.

Mrs. Sarah A. Harris, organist and Phillip Blackmar, violinist, will accompany the choir.

QUARTET TO PLAY

At Washington Crossing. In program of music under the summer stars, the Allegrita Quartet will play Haydn, Schubert and Beethoven on Friday, June 4 in Washington Cross-ing's open air theatre. The concert will begin at 8:30.

The featured work will be the Haydn Quartet Opus 55.
The four musicians will also play Schubert's Quartet Number 14 in A Minor, Opus 29 and Beethoven's Quartet Number 11 in Minor, Opus 55,
the "Serioso."

The Allegrita Quartet will play twice more for audiences at the Washington Crossing summer festival. Performance dates are July 16 and August 6.

SCHUBERT IS KING
At Benefit Concert. An all-Schubert concert will be presented Wednesday, June 2, in Hoo-ver, N.J. as a benefit for the Rev. Martin Luther King and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Members of the Roosevelt
Charity Society and the Shore
Chorus will meet at the Hoo-ver Memorial at 8:30 p.m. in a performance commemorating the anniversary of the Memorial's dedication.

The singers will present
Schubert's Mass in G, conducted by Clarence Moore and accompanying by a string quartet.

IN THE BEGINNING . . .
Was the Word. "You never think about talking until you can't talk!"
Straining with frustration, baffled by their inability to open the locks and let out the flood of words, boys and girls, men and women came to Mary Jean Metzger, speech therapist at Princeton Hospital, to learn how all ever again.
Red-faced, young and pretty, with a happy confidence which encourages her patients, Mrs. Metzger copes with almost every kind of speech problem, whether it's simple in three years old or 70.
"Our greatest successes are with very young children who stutter," the therapist says, "and the younger we get them the better."
Mrs. Metzger meets her patients, young and old, during her Tuesday or Thursday afternoon hours in the Princeton Hospital. She diagnoses the problems. Does the child stutter? Does he speak with the bottled sound of the cleft palate victim, or with the complete flubbery of the inarticulate?

Chain Reaction. "Emotional problems are closely linked to all these physical factors," Mrs. Metzger explains. "An emotional problem can cause the stuttering, or the child may develop an emotional problem because he has the speech defect. We always consider the 'whole child'—you can't take just his speech problems and expect to solve them without considering his home environment, school, his phantasies—everything about him."

Many of Mrs. Metzger's 18 patients are so-called "articulation" cases; that is, young children who make sounds that cannot be understood.
Slightly more than a year ago, Mrs. Metzger met for the first time a five-year-old boy who was completely unintelligible. Above average in intelligence, good with hearing and good coordination, he had no trouble using his tongue and was trying to have a good vocabulary.

"Although his hearing was good, he couldn't distinguish between sounds—he didn't know the difference between what he had said and what I said," Mrs. Metzger went on. "What I did was to work with him slowly, sound by sound. Like 'bo' 'bo' 'bo' in 'bo-peep' after two or three months, he was trying to say, and today—well, he has only two or three sounds that are hard for him to produce, and in September he's going to enter kindergarten."

Exercise. Home-work is always on the program for these

BO-PEEP HAS FOUND HER SHEEP. Colored pictures help Mary Jean Metzger to elicit sounds from children (and adults, too) who have trouble speaking. "Yellow egg," "Little Bo-Peep," "Boy Blue"—if the picture is chosen properly, it can demonstrate all kinds of sounds and concepts. Mrs. Metzger is a member of Princeton Hospital's Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. More about talk, talk in "Topics of the Town." (Staff Photo)

Patients because Mrs. Metzger sees them only once a week for half an hour. Parents of young patients are also interviewed, too, so that home problems can be talked out.

"You know, when a child stammers or can't talk, parents look at him in a negative way—what's the matter with him? They'll say, and this often makes him tighter and more troubled than ever," Mrs. Metzger points out, "so I have to talk with the parents, too."

The stutler or the cleft-palate child must suffer the taunts of classmates who mock him, and one of Mrs. Metzger's starting devices is to take the child with a cleft-palate and make him feel "positive" about the things he does with his mouth.

For a year, Mrs. Metzger had a young girl who had had palate operations and was learning to speak. She had been laughed at so much that she was full of tension about speech.
"I started with the kinds of sounds she was good at," says Mrs. Metzger, "and in that way, I reassured her before I started gradually to work into the sounds she couldn't manage."

Grandfather, too. Now, what about the 75-year-olds? These, of course, are men and women who have had strokes, like the elderly man whose doctor felt that age was no factor in his therapy so long as the patient was alive and intelligent.
"I had a wonderful 'positive approach,'" Mrs. Metzger explains. "It makes it easier, somehow, to work with the patient when the doctor has such an attitude."

"You take an elderly man like this who has had a stroke, and you explore to find out just what state he's in; can he understand what you say, or not? Can he say a few things? Can he reach out and touch an object?"

Holding a salt-shaker before the stroke victim, she will say, "Do put this on ice cream," or "Pick this up and hand it to me."

What Is This? She will display colors and ask the patient whether he can match them, or identify them to her.

"Mostly I use pictures of objects in a bedroom, because patients will see a working vocabulary. What I do, really, is to provide a stimulus—get them started and, of course, find out what they still have to work with, and give them confidence."

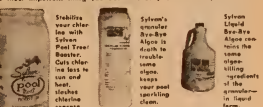

People with speech problems come to Mrs. Metzger from all over the country. Usually, of course, it's the school. Often, it's the school, if there is an speech therapist in the school system. There is a close correlation between speech problems and reading difficulties, so teachers are always eager to discuss their pupils with Mrs. Metzger.

Sometimes a referral is casual, and the treatment dramatically quick.
"One boy, a 10-year-old, was sent to me by his doctor because the boy had a lisp and was being teased unmercifully by his friends in school. All I did was show him how to make it and it was like a light breaking in. He just never knew how before!"

DIG THEY MUST
To Reawaken Excavation, The American Expedition to Hebron under the direction of Dr. Philip C. Hammond will return to Jordan this summer to continue its excavations at the site of the Biblical city. Dr. Hammond, an assistant professor of Old Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary, will conduct an interim season of surveying and exploration prior to full-scale operations in 1966. Last summer, the expedition began the first archaeological excavations ever undertaken at Hebron.

IS THERE TOO!
Sylvan Pool Treat dissolves instantly in swimming pool water to kill bacteria, can be used just before swimming, never leaves a color or odor, doesn't irritate eyes or skin, is harmless to pool finish and equipment, and comes in breathable containers. So do many other pool chemicals.
Sylvan Pool Treat, a ribbun base chlorine, doesn't leave a chalky residue that other calcium base chlorines leave. That's what makes it the most important thing you put in your pool. Besides yourself.

Even the most expensive watch can't keep time as precisely as Accutron. That's because all the mechanical parts that make a conventional watch fast or slow have been left out of it. The Accutron movement is electronic. It's powered by a battery that keeps a tiny tuning fork vibrating 360 times a second, and it comes with the first guarantee of accuracy ever given. (You might like to know that the U.S. uses Accutron movements in satellites and issued them to all X-15 pilots.) You can't give a man a more perfect gift of time.

The state included 22 faculty members and student participants from Princeton Seminary and four other institutions. The digging unearthed objects that were as old as 5,000 years.

Hebron is identified in the Old Testament as the camping grounds of Abraham, a patriarch of the Hebrews. It is also referred to as the first capital city of King David. This summer, excavations carried on from July 1 to August 15 with financial support from the Seminary and the Rev. Earl Douglas of Princeton among others.

OLYMPIANS AT ATTEND
 Annual YMCA Meeting Set.
 Three Princeton Olympians will be honored at the Princeton YMCA annual dinner meeting Wednesday, June 2, at the Princeton Inn.

Bill Bradley, Lesley Bush and Irwin Weiss will be the guests, and members, their families and friends are invited to attend. Officers and trustees for the coming year will be elected and installed at the meeting.

Reservations may be made at the YMCA office. The advance request indicates a large turnout for the affair, the YMCA reported.

DRIVE UNDERWAY
 By Chicago Alumni, University of Chicago alumni in this area have begun their 1965 fund-raising drive.

Members of the committee in charge of the appeal are Dr. Erling Dorf, Dr. and Mrs. Robert K. Faulkner, Dr. Murray Gerstenhaber, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gilvarg, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Ballukien, Mrs. Siela C. Hemphill, Thomas A. Lick, Dr. and Mrs. Lionel I. Person To Person

We're talking about Memorial Day, or, if you prefer, it's some 11 m a called, Decoration Day, and you know, this type of remembrance by a whole nation for the departed goes back a long way, to the Druids of Gaul and Britain in the centuries B. C. and to the ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans. Memorial Day in the United States originated in the Southern States as a tribute to their soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the Civil War, and later it was adopted by many of the Northern States for the same purpose. It was in 1868, that an order was issued appointing May 30th as a day set aside for paying homage to comrades who died in defense of their country. But it soon became custom to honor all departed souls on this day. Now it is a holiday to 43 of our 50 states. It is a day not only of sorrow, but of gratitude, when we can reverse the memory of those who have gone on, and be glad that they were dead to us, and that we can, on this day, strengthen our spiritual bonds with all our loved ones. Kammer Bulck-Pontiac Co., Route 906, opp. Princeton Airport, 921-9222.

Question: Would you favor New Jersey banning the death penalty?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Alexander Haupt, Whitehorse, electrical foreman for Connet Electric: No, if a man does something wrong, I think he should be punished for it. I believe in mercy like everyone else, but if someone killed one of my four sons, I'd wouldn't want him to go unpunished. Under those circumstances, if it were possible, I'd almost take care of it myself and save the state some money. These guys that go around and kill little girls: if they don't impose the death penalty, I can't see it. Otherwise, others will be encouraged to commit more murders. I believe the death penalty acts as a check on crime. That's my own opinion but I believe it.

Alistair M. Stewart, 204 Clover Lane, carpenter. As far as I'm concerned, it should not be considered. If a person commits premeditated murder — and he is found guilty — I think the death penalty should be allowed. If a guy does something on the spur of the moment, then I feel perhaps there could be some legislation in this area, but I don't think it should be cut out entirely. A lot of people would be afraid to die who wouldn't be afraid of spending life in prison. And a life is eligible for parole usually after 14 years.

John McGowens, Trenton, employee, Princeton Post Office. Yes, I don't feel we should kill someone just because they have killed someone else. There should be an attempt at rehabilitation. I think you'll find very few people who are really mad at the world; most murders are committed on the spur of the moment, not premeditated.

William Chin, 36 Witherspoon Street, restaurant business. Yes, I think so. I think to take away anyone's life is far beyond the hands of another human being. In my feel imprisonment is sufficient.

R. B. Parker, Washington, D. C. here on a fellowship; I'm not a resident of New Jersey. If I were, I wouldn't be in favor of it. I feel there are instances when the death penalty should be imposed. Perhaps I am being Biblical in my outlook, but I feel there are certain needs for punitive action: as eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Thad Mirer, Josine Hall, University sophomore. Yes, I think I would be. Since this is a little in actual practice, it's not that important. Life imprisonment would be just as much a deterrent to any crime. If our penal system is supposed to be a reforming system, certainly death doesn't allow for this, whereas life imprisonment

Miss Maritza Harbottle, Trenton, secretary. I would yes. I just wish they would ban the death penalty everywhere. I don't believe in taking another man's life no matter what. I believe in some form of punishment, of course, but I think imprisonment is sufficient.

Francis Bellair, Princeton, butcher-chaffeur. Yes, we are living in the 20th century, not the Middle Ages. I think the death penalty is barbaric.

Stephen Goldman, Skillman, psychiatrist at Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Yes, I don't feel it has proved to be detrimental to any of the crimes for which it was designed to be detrimental. Also, I feel because of the possibility of error in capital punishment such measures are irrevocable, whereas less total kinds of punishment always permit the possibility of alteration.

Arthur Chan, Graduate College, chemistry. Yes, I would be in favor of it, because in some instances you may find out later that a jury might have made the wrong decision or the findings of the police may have been in error. There's always the chance that an innocent person could be killed.

John Najemy, 1963 Hall, University senior. My first reaction would be, yes, based on who one man to take the life of another and on the principle of forgiveness. One would think the principle of forgiveness should work in all cases but it just doesn't work out that way in life. A good example would be war criminals after World War II. There are one or two exceptions that I can see, if a man commits a murder in prison, what are you going to do with him? Also, there are some crimes that are so terrible, so horrible that the righteous indignation of the people is offended to the point where they almost demand the ultimate in revenge: the taking of a man's life.

David Jones, Westminster Choir College, senior. No. The death penalty is only imposed for the most heinous crimes and I feel there are some criminals who can't be rehabilitated. Just can't be rehabilitated. Yet, murderers are continually released to commit murder again.

Chauncey Hedgpeth, Trenton, foreman of janitorial company. Yes, and I think it depends on the crime. For example, a horrible murder or rape of a teenage girl, yes. I think then the death penalty is justified. Take these drug addicts that roam the streets, killing for a few dollars. They know ahead of time what they're getting into and what they're doing. They're getting away with murder. If the murder is spontaneous and unpremeditated, then I think the penalty should be alleviated.

David Hill, Trenton, PHS basketball player in 1964 now in the air force. No, I don't think hating it will do any good because I think a lot of people would be opposed to such a thing. I think there are some instances where a murderer should be as one who commits a premeditated murder, deserves to get the same in return.

rade. The Annual Memorial Day Parade in Hopewell, sponsored by the Hopewell Valley American Legion Post 339, will be held on Monday, The Korean Conflict.

Again this year, the parade will form at 9 at Hart Avenue and start promptly at 9:30. It will follow the same route as last year and, immediately following the parade, a memorial service will be held at the Post Home.

Three bands are scheduled to be in the parade as well as floats in both senior and junior divisions. Other units will be the Delaware Valley Horseman's Association, and continuants from the National Guard, boy scouts and girl scouts.

CHAPIN TO OPEN

For Third Summer Session.
 The Chapin School will begin its third summer session on June 28.

The summer school will continue for six weeks, according to Alexander P. Robinson, the school director. The program will include a morning session for grades two through eight with special emphasis on reading and arithmetic.

An afternoon day camp program will be held for those enrolled in the morning classes under the direction of Calvin Smith. Activities will include tennis and swimming instruction. Mr. Robinson may be contacted at the school for further information.

HENRY HOUSE CITED

As "Landmark." Joseph
 Henry House has been designated a "National Historic Landmark" by the U. S. National Park Service.

The yellow house on the university campus east of Nassau Hall was built for Professor Henry in 1837, and was occupied by him and his family until 1846 when the noted scientist left the Princeton faculty to become secretary and director of the newly-formed Smithsonian Institute.

The house originally stood where Reunion Hall now stands, to the west of Nassau Hall. In 1870, it was moved to a location approximating
 the corner of College Place and the present chapel, and in 1925 it was moved from there to the corner of Nassau and Washington Road, to make room for the chapel.

Campus changes brought about a final move in 1946,
 when Joseph Henry House was moved to its present location so that Firststone Library could be built on the Washington Road corner.

The house is traditionally the home of the Dean of Students and is present occupant is William D'O Lippincott.
 At the "Landmark" ceremonies held Wednesday at the house, Dean Lippincott spoke as "a deeply appreciative tenant" of the historic building.

During the years the Henry family lived there, Professor Henry used the house in his experiments in electro-magnetism. In one experiment, he strung a wire from his laboratory, across the front campus to his home and by means of the wire, would send impulses to his laboratory home, signaling his wife that he was about to come home for lunch. This was about 10 years before Morse invented the telegraph.

A plaque now affixed to the house, notes that Joseph Henry House "possesses exceptional value in commemorating and illustrating the history of the United States."
 Dr. Henry DeWolf Smyth, Joseph Henry Professor of physics at Princeton, accepted for the University a certificate signed by the Secretary of the Interior, Steven L. Udvar-i.

PARADE MONDAY
 To Mark Memorial Day, Memorial Day parade activities will begin in Princeton at 10:30 Monday when the marchers assemble on Princeton Avenue. The American Legion-sponsored event will start at 11 under the direction of Eugene Pierre, Alex Procasino and Robert Schmidt. The parade will proceed on Nassau Street to the Washington Battle Monument at Stockton and Bayard Lane.

Forty-five minutes later an address will be delivered at the monument. The St. Paul's Girl Choir of 50 will sing under the direction of Sister Mary Cecilia. The first division of marchers to the monument will include a police guard at the front followed by Borough and Township officials and the directors of the parade, Donald W. Griffin and D. Don Richards. For Dix Army units and reserve units from Princeton University also be in the first division.

Following them will be the Princeton High School color guard and marching band along with marching groups from Posts 76 and 218 of the American Legion. Representatives of the area fire companies will bring up the rear of the second section. Wallace Holland is in charge of Post 218. The third division will include Boy and Girl Scouts and armored tanks. Ernest Drake, the oldest member of Post 76, will place the memorial wreath at the monument and a firing squad will be headed by Clinton Grever. Norman Fowler is in charge of the grave decoration committee.

PASS-FAIL PLAN OKAYED
 For Princeton Students. Princeton University will be the first Ivy League college to permit its students to take a course in which only a passing or failing grade will be given.

The measure was adopted by the faculty will not be available for courses in the student's department, Dean of the College J. Merrill Knapp said. It is designed, he explained, to encourage undergraduates to select courses far removed from their major field without fear of receiving an inferior grade.

In another related action, the faculty adopted a new language requirement which specifies that bachelor of art students must demonstrate competence in a foreign language. Previously, A. B. students could complete a mathematics requirement in place of a language. The measure will go into effect in September, 1966.

The faculty also approved a measure which will allow non-degreeduates to complete distribution requirements over four years rather than two. This requirement makes it mandatory for students to take at least two courses in four different fields—natural science, social science, arts and letters, and history, philosophy and religion.

YOUR INCOME BAYS

BUT WHAT IF YOU'RE DISABLED

Total disability of the breadwinner has a tragic impact on a family. Earning power ceases; income is cut off. But family living expenses go on and bills must be paid. Unless there is something to fall back on, the family must make severe adjustments—in living standards and in educational plans. You can be prepared to meet this hazard with Manufacturers Life's Personal Income Protector Plan. If you are totally disabled it will give you a guaranteed monthly income. It's a flexible policy with a choice of short or long term income periods. You can co-ordinate it with other resources; tailor it to your needs and your pocket book. The premium rate is guaranteed and Manufacturers Life cannot cancel the policy. Ask your Manufacturers Life representative to tell you more about it.

ART In Princeton

GAY PARE IN GALLERIES

As Season Nears End, To finish off a fairly active season of arts and crafts shows in and about Princeton, we wish to make a few final notes on current exhibitions and to announce some of the summer plans which we already know about.

Kalen's, now showing work by J. M. Rodgers, will have other one-man shows on occasion through the summer; out in town, The Golden Door in New Hope and The Crown Gallery in Morristown will continue their changing monthly exhibits; Gallery 100 in Highland Park, which exhibits paintings by Nancy O'Connor until June 19, will continue a varying schedule of shows. The Princeton Art Association's Members' Show will be held at Nassau Interiors' former address, 162 Nassau Street, from June 9 to 13.

Papashvily Sculpture. As usual, Gallery 100 will change its complement of prints and sculptures during July and August. One hopes that some of the gaiety and charm now there will linger on to raise our spirits all summer long.

The current exhibit of sculpture by George Papashvily is sheer delight. Some of his work has been seen here before but now there is a whole roomful of his friends in Nature, each one brought out of the rough stone by the sensitive hands of an artist who warmly understands the fabric of the Earth and the character of its creatures.

What makes his animals so poignantly individual? First, the quality of the stone and its affinity to its subject. Next, his handling of the material in simple shaping with few but effective details.

The highly-polished beady eye bespeaks the sly fox; the finely chiseled markings on a shiny carapace denote the ordinary beetle. You won't be able to resist touching the textures, so rough is the bristling groundhog in limonite, so

THE FORMS OF NATURE. Alert and listening, the other stands transfixed in the warm and embracing, the chipmunk shelters its young. Both animals are in the enchanting gallery of nature sculpture from the hand of George Papashvily. Now at Gallery 100. (Staff Photo) smooth and silky the quiescent moth in lovely serpentine.

It isn't hard to understand what the artist says of his work. I don't make sculpture. I just bring out what I find in the stone. "He finds it all from Nature, a sliding otter or a leaping rabbit in grey porphyry, antelope in pink granite, but in black jade or the graceful ivory of the valley whose season will never end in its slab of pale green serpentine.

Any and all of these pieces would be a pleasure to have on a terrace, in a garden or woods and moreover, indoors. They make you happy.

Two Shows By FAA Members.

Cindra Huber, More gaiety of the month of May is found at the Present Day Club in the show of Decorative Themes and Paintings by Cindra Huber who has added much joyousness to Princeton through the years with her artistic decorations for fairs, festivals, annuals, dances, etc. Always done in bold colors and effective design, they have equally good taste and humor. Some examples of recent themes for the Spring Annual and a winter dance are shown here as simple and effective decor.

Teaching. Cindra Huber majored in Commercial and Illustration at the Philadelphia Museum School of Art. For ten years she has taught drawing and decorating to private students and for six years has given a popular lecture course in Design for Living at the Princeton YWCA. As Head of the Art Therapy Program at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute, she has guided, helped and entertained many patients, who like us, feel happier for her artistic flair and gift of communication.

Paintings. Of her serious work at the Present Day Club, there are clear line drawings and portrait heads in pencil, both indicating a nice feeling for illustration. Her paintings are figure studies with good gesture and in technique are light in color, light in paint quality which make them very different from her decorative things. She seems to be concentrating on drawing and design which makes something like her woman's Torso very strong and full of character.

Nancy O'Connor. An exhibition of paintings by Nancy O'Connor opened on May 25th at Gallery 100 in Highland Park and will run through June 19. Nancy O'Connor is a charter member of the Princeton Art Association and its secretary.

She gave a one-man show for the Present Day Club Art Program last year and has exhibited in the JayCee's annual shows where she has frequently won first prize. She has been studying for three years with Sam Feinstein of Philadelphia.

Martin Magerowski (left) and Francis Vetrein, telephone 924-7601, men, who helped a family out of a dangerous traffic situation.

They didn't pass by on the other side.

Martin Magerowski and Francis Vetrein work as linemen for the phone company in New Brunswick.

One day as they were driving along in their truck, they spotted a car stalled in heavy traffic on a bridge. Smoke was billowing from its hood.

The driver was outside directing traffic. His wife and two small children had left the car and were standing on the sidewalk.

The situation they were in was potentially dangerous.

Magerowski and Vetrein pulled up behind and offered help. It was gladly accepted, and the two telephone men towed the disabled car off the bridge and into an area safe from highway traffic.

It was a small, helpful act. The kind that makes us proud of telephone company people.

SPORTS In Princeton

NCAA BASEBALL HERE
Princeton baseball team that has compiled a fine 19-9 record after barely winning a third of its games a year ago will play in the NCAA District II Regional Tournament on Clarke Field Friday.

The Tigers, whose 6-3 record in Eastern League action may also be good enough for a share of first place, face the toughest of the three other teams which qualified for the two-day event. They will oppose Rider College (26-1) at 1 o'clock, followed at 4 by Lafayette, Middle Atlantic Conference champion, (14-5) and Pittsburgh (13-3).

The two winners will play Saturday at 1 p.m. for the District title and the right to go to Omaha for the College World Series. It was 14 years ago that Princeton last played there, winning its way on the strength of fine pitching by Dave Sleser, Ray Chirugi and Harry Brightman. However, the Tigers were eliminated in 1951 by successive losses to Southern California and Tennessee, and this is the first time in the intervening years that they have qualified for the regional playoffs now held to select the eastern representative.

Back-to-back losses ten days ago to Dartmouth and Rider appeared to remove the Orange and Black from consideration, but Eddie Donovan's pine staged a remarkable comeback around mounting pressure as it ran up a five-game winning streak in a period of only eight days.

Manhattan was the first victim, 6 to 5, followed by Monmouth College, a New Jersey neighbor of the Tigers which was good enough to come to Clarke Field with a 13-3 record. John Redpath, who rates no better than third on the Princeton pitching ladder behind Tom Scott and Graham Marcot, shut out the visitors, 5 to 0.

Butlers Beaten Again, A 2-1 victory in Princeton earlier this season, Rutgers came here Wednesday afternoon and lost, 4 to 2. Scott worked the first six, Marcot the last three and NEBRASKA NEXT? The 10-6 record which Eddie Donovan's Princeton baseball team compiled has won it a chance to play in the College World Series at Omaha. If Tigers win district finals this weekend, they'll enter the national tournament next.

while the victors might have broken the game open on several occasions, they hung on to sweep the series between the two teams for the first time in several years.

Thursday saw another near-by New Jersey team, Trenton State Teachers, play here and Redpath again took virtually complete control. He added his more searching nailing before yielding two in the top of the ninth but coasted home for an 8-2 triumph.

A 260-foot home run by pinch hitter Phil DeBantis was the picture hit of the contest. The sophomore reserve infielder cleared the fence deep in left center with a man aboard in the eighth.

Corneil Edged, 2-1, by Saturday, both a shot at the NCAA Tournament and a chance for first place in the Eastern League hung on the outcome of the game with Corneil at 11-3. On a basis of his steady improvement throughout the season, Scott was Eddie Donovan's choice to pitch the key contest and the capable left-hander came through with four-hit, one-run performance that required only a one-inning relief job by Marcot to wrap up the decision.

Corneil scored first, getting its lone tally in the sixth on a double and two sacrifices, but the Tigers drew even in the top half of the next round. Third baseman Wally Uble singled Dan Adams home and two innings later, it was another clutch hit by Uble that provided the winning run.

With Pete Riley on third following a walk and two Corneil errors, Uble again singled cleanly through the infield. Marcot came on to preserve the decision, allowing one hit but striking out the side.

Dartmouth's 2-0 victory over first-place Army the same afternoon provides the possibility of a four way tie in the final standings should Navy trim the cadets at West Point.

era League title outright. Eleven times in the 25 games it has played, Princeton has made three putouts for tries and it is greatly to the credit of the pitchers that five of these low-scoring games were converted into victories.

Only Wally Wile is battling over .300, and a couple of the regulars are barely hitting their weights. The team average has hovered around the .200 mark all season, while the number of men left on base is amazingly high in view of the standouts in the record.

Pitting playing the part in college ball that it does—come down to a good deal of 85% of a team's strength—the Tigers have put together their best record in 14 years and are content with their role of giant killer in Friday's contest. Their celebration of the NCAA championship gives Princeton what is certainly an Ivy first: entry in the district finals in both basketball and baseball in the same year.

ALL TIED UP IN KNOTS
Three Leagues Deadlocked
For the first time in Eastern Intercollegiate athletic history, the league slugging in baseball, lacrosse and tennis are all tied at the first-place level. Two of them are virtually certain to remain that way; baseball action has one game left but it may decide Army on June 3, a four-way deadlock will result.

Playoffs in any of the leagues are most unlikely, because of the dissimilarity in academic schedules. Pennsylvania, for example, has its graduation exercises on Monday, whereas the service academies do not finish until early June. Harvard, Yale and Princeton much later than that.

Final Ivy Lacrosse	W	L	Pts

Now He Has Three

Springdale Golf Club's first hole in the 25 games it has played, Princeton was recorded Saturday by Reed Stuart, whose 18-year-old ninth rolled into the cup.

Stuart was in a foursome with Edmund Delong, John Denoho and George Stelshon, the latter a resident of the town where he has his residence. His comment was merely, "My first with a wooden club."

He might have added that it was his first hole in one in New Jersey. The two others he has to his credit were made in New England—one in Vermont, the other in Massachusetts.

As a result of action last week, Princeton's lacrosse team dropped to 3-5-1 tie with Dartmouth for Ivy honors—the second year in a row that these two teams have deadlocked for the title—while Princeton's tennis team was elevated to a three-way tie for the championship in the Eastern Tennis Association with Harvard and Penn.

After sustaining a 4-5 loss at Harvard's hands, the tennis team encountered little difficulty in trimming Penn, 7 to 2. The Crimson's loss to the Quakers Thursday by a 4-5 count accordingly came as something of a surprise, albeit a welcome one as the Tigers regained a share of the crown they had worn outright for four years.

Overconfidence? Having won the tougher games against Penn and Dartmouth in Princeton's lacrosse team was a heavy favorite to defeat last-place Cornell at Ithaca Saturday.

Whether belief that the Red could be had for the taking played a part in the Tigers' 8-5 defeat is an intangible hard to assess, but the Orange and Black was never in front of the presumably weaker home team.

An early-three goal lead was the foundation for Cornell's 6-3 half-time margin. Princeton failing to score in either the second or third periods. The Tigers did their best to close the gap with a five-goal outburst in the last period but fell one short.

The triumph was Cornell's first in the sport over Princeton in 35 years.

26 SLOOPS COMPLETE

In Carnegie Lake Regatta, Princeton's Carnegie Sailing Club was host Sunday for the first regatta of the 1965 season for the GP-14 class of the Middle Atlantic States area. In all, 29 sloops competed in five races around a course in moderate to gusty winds on Lake Carnegie.

Jim Joss and Bill Blumenstein of the Cooper River Yacht Club captured first and second place, while third and fourth place went to Ben Williams and Jerry Lawson of the Carnegie Sailing Club. The traditional Carnegie Sailing Club regatta were presented to the first four skippers and their crews by Bob Wilson, chairman of the regatta.

This is the fourth year the Middle Atlantic States area has been organized and in each year, the regatta season has been inaugurated by the Carnegie Sailing Club.

For landlubbers, the General purpose 14 is a sleep-regatta sailboat suitable both for racing and family sailing. Although small for Lake Carnegie, it is seaworthy and can be sailed in open water.

SHOT MARK BETTERED

Twice by Andy Kulley. Last Wednesday, Andy Kulley broke by a half-inch, the Princeton High School record of 53-10 in the shot put, set in 1952 by his brother-in-law, Tom Perkins. Three days later, on Saturday in the Central Jersey meet at Asbury Park, Andy set another new mark, but this time the difference was a whopping 12 inches. Granted it was Kulley's fourth of 53-11½ was only worth fourth place.

For Saturday's meet, the competition was tremendous. Some 600 boys from 26 Group 4 schools participated in the shot event, 32 alone in the

in all the strong PHS team which has won nine of 10 dual meets this spring, compiled 11 points. Its best effort was a second in the broad jump by Roger Madden, followed by Jay Gallagher's third in the mile.

Bart Bennett finished fourth in the low hurdles; Carl Gies, 380 yds, and miler Roger Constant, involved with college placement tests, did not compete.

The Little Tigers will wind up their current successful season on Tuesday when their best will participate in the Central Jersey Group 4 meet at Union. Final activity will be the annual state event held June 5 at the Rutgers University Stadium.

Making the trip to Union, according to coach Jerry Groninger, will be Kulley and Carl DeCavallante in the weight events; Bennett and Bill Aiken in hurdles; Craig Beazell and Tom Fasanella, javelin; Gallagher and Constant, mile; Madden and Vince Bonafant, broad jump and sprinter; Carl Gies and Bill Lawder, 380 and Jerry Lyden, pole vault.

New Mile Mark. A new record in the mile of 4:34 for the Central Jersey meet was set Saturday, a full 11 seconds slower than the mile run by Gallagher last week at Ewing. Groninger reported that the time, in many of the races, seemed slow because of the wind and the sandy condition of the track.

Commenting on Gallagher, who represented Princeton's best hope for a first, Groninger said that he felt Jay ran a little too fast in the first quarter. "Jay misjudged it," he said. "He ran a 61 first lap and he just didn't have it for the last quarter."

Little trouble disposing of Highland Park (2-5) here last Wednesday, 78-39. The victors swept the Javelin (Fasanello, first with a toss of 175-5) and the broad jump (Madden, first, 20-9½).

Other first place finishers for the Little Tigers were De-Cavalcante, discus; C o n a n t, mile; Gallagher, 800; Alken, high hurdles; and Bennett, low hurdles. Boccafosco, Gaylord Brooks and Giese placed second, respectively, in the 100, 220 and 440.

FOODY GETS SECOND ACE

At North Hills Course, Thomas J. Foody Jr. of Trenton, president of Prince Chevrolet, Route 206, shot a hole-in-one Sunday while playing the North Hills Country Club course in Philadelphia. The ace was his second.

Mr. Foody used a 5 wood on a par three, 203-yard ninth hole. A member of the Trenton Country Club, he was playing in the Paterson Cup Matches of the Philadelphia district.

They are Dr. George Goldstein, chairman of the Education and Employment Committee of F.A.D.E.; Mr. James C. McKeever, President of the YMCA; Mrs. L. V. Silvester Jr., President of YES; and A. C. Reeves Hinch, President of the YWCA.

TICKET HEAD TO RETIRE: McVay Ends Princeton Career, Martin S. McVay, assistant to the director of athletics and ticket manager since coming to Princeton University in 1958, has announced his retirement effective July 1.

In recent years, Mr. McVay has been responsible for dealing with the demands of Princeton basketball fans eager to see the exploits of Bill Bradley. The demand has invariably exceeded the capacity of the 3,000-seat Dillon Gymnasium, often by upwards of 100%.

A native of Washington Court House, O., Mr. McVay joined the General Electric Company following his graduation from Princeton in 1922. He held a variety of accounting, auditing and administrative jobs with the firm before leaving in 1958. He had been stationed in Schenectady, N. Y., Bridgeport, Conn., Cleveland and Denver.

Mr. McVay is married to the former Margaret Lalar. They have two children, Martin Scott Jr., a graduate of Princeton in 1953, and Mrs. James W. (Sarah Ann) McCormick Jr.

TRENTON TOPS PHS

Three Games Remain. All season long the Princeton High School baseball team has been akin to a Sunday driver in a long line of traffic, waiting for the light to change its pitching is so green, and it hitting stop. Unfortunately, there is little time left and it appears likely that the Little Tigers will remain stalled in the loser's column where they have been for 11 of 14 contests.

No matter what, the end of the road is in sight for the 1965 Little Tigers. They will engage Somerville here Friday in a 3:45 contest and will be at Hunterdon Central on Tuesday. Their finale will be here against Cathedral next Friday in a game that was scheduled originally for April 23 but was rained out.

An example of the Blue and White's traffic problem was its last outing Thursday against Trenton. Offensively, its attack flashed red again as the team collected three hits and two runs. It marked the 11th occasion in its 14 starts that Coches Harry Zoll's squad had scored three runs or less.

Had it effective pitching, PHS might well have won many of those games in which it tallied only a few runs. Zoll is fond of saying that in high percent. But the Little Tigers have no "stopper." Their pitchers have allowed 30 more runs than the 32 scored by their own teammates.

Princeton's Howard D. Rifling 0-4 held the home team Turnstones to one run in the first inning but allowed the floor to swing wide open in the third when THIS added three more. Chris Fletcher and Joe Harding finished up.

PHS averted its fifth shut-out of the year when Wayne Martin singled home two runners in the last inning. Bill McQuade, Little Tiger shortstop, tripled in the fifth but was out trying to stretch it.

MIDGET ALL-STAR SET

For Memorial Day Game. With two weeks to go in the YMCA Midget Baseball League, activity stops in both divisions while interest centers around the annual Memorial Day All-Star Classic. Two players and an alternate from each of the teams are picked to form the National and American League entry. The game will start at 1 at the YMC A diamond.

Meanwhile, in action last week, Tiger hurler Dave LaPlaca fanned 12 in no-hitting the Red Sox, 7-0. The Tigers also defeated the Senators, 4-1, to move into second place. In other games, the Orioles lost to a resurging Yankee team, 10-5, but topped the Athletics, 7-3. The Yanks shaded the Senators, 5-4, and the Red Sox won a pair from the Indians 12-3 April 31.

CLASSES TO BEGIN
For Summer Tennis Program. Classes for beginners and intermediates in the Princeton Community Tennis Program will begin June 28 and continue through August 28. The advanced program will start on June 21 and continue through August 6.

In charge of the beginners and intermediates will be William Humes, Princeton High School coach; Norman Van Arsdale, director of physical education for Township Schools; Joseph Diefenbach, physical education instructor at Community Park; and Mrs. Lewis Kraft, director of the tennis program. John Conroy, the Princeton University tennis coach, will direct the class for advanced pupils.

Those wishing to register should call Mrs. James Fitzpatrick at 924-2190. The staff members also conduct instructional programs affiliated with the YM-YWCA, Pine Breeze Club and Pretty Brook Club. Registration may be completed at the applicant's convenience.

HUN NINE FALTERS
Weak Hitting Blamed. The 1965 Hun School baseball season that progressed from "optimistic" to "very disappointing" for coach John Talbot was scheduled to end Wednesday when Hun entertained Trenton State, 2 Y. After losing a pair of one-run decisions last week, the Red and Black is currently 4-7.

"We faded," said Talbot. "It's been very disappointing. We just haven't been able to hit in the clutch with men on base. The pitchers have done well; the fielding, while we made some errors, was as good as could be expected. . . The hitting just wasn't there. A lot of our best hitters last year for some reason failed to come through this year."

As it was, Hun fell back by the closest of margins, losing, 3-2 to Bryn Athyn Friday in its final Penn-Jersey League game of the year, and 2-1, last Wednesday to Delbarton. Chris Westover suffered both defeats. Although 4-7 overall, Hun ended 4-2 in league competition. Talbot commented, however, "That's not quite good enough."

To make it all the more painful, Hun ousted Bryn Athyn, 6 to 3, and two of the winning three runs were unearned, including its game-winning tally in the last inning. That developed when, with men on first and second and two away, Scott Page, Hun's third baseman, fielded a hard chopper cleanly but threw wild to first, allowing the Bryn Athyn runner to score all the way from second.

Hun had scored in the first on a double by Westover and a single by Rudy Beitzel, and again in the fourth, sandwiching a hit batsman between singles by Beitzel and Eric Landis. The defeat was Hun's third one-run decision in a row.

No Support. Last week, Westover limited Delbarton to five hits but he received even less support at the plate from his teammates. Eight Johnny Hun fans and only four managed to get a hit.

Delbarton won, 2-1, when it scored on a Hun error, the only miscue of the contest. The game was scoreless until the final inning.

Mike Miller collected two of Hun's four safeties. Westover and Landis getting the other two. Westover pitched well but he got no support," said Talbot. "It was a good tight game we could have won but we weren't able to hit with men on base."

5 BEDROOMS . . . here is what almost every other person seeking a home in the Princeton area is looking for — a genuine pre-Revolutionary Colonial! Center hall, living room with fireplace, dining room (large enough for 16 people) with fireplace, large square sitting room, and a kitchen which could be a feature article in a national magazine. This wonderful kitchen is not only completely modern in the working area, but there is a vast old "cooking fireplace" in that part of the room which is now used for family meals. The house also has 2 modern bathrooms, baseboard heating, a beautiful terrace and an acre of land.
(Sole Agent) $33,000

LAWRENCEVILLE . . . a comfortable and substantial old home in a charming community. Only one block from the N. Y. Express bus. Hall, large living room with fireplace, enclosed sun porch, dining room, kitchen with breakfast area and powder room on 1st floor. Second floor: 3 bedrooms, 1 large tiled bath. Partially air-conditioned. $26,000

AIR-CONDITIONED . . . comfort and an unusually liveable floor plan distinguish this fine home, located on a beautifully wooded lot in one of the Township's most attractive neighborhoods. Large living room with fireplace, dining room, playroom, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. There is also an extra room downstairs which could be a study or a 4th bedroom. (Sole Agent) $38,500

FINE COLONIAL . . . standing on a terrace among beautiful shade trees on a 2-acre plot, this new home has a square entrance hall, large (16 x 26) living room with fireplace, library with bar in a closet, dining room, powder room, large kitchen & laundry, maid's room, and bath. Second floor: 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. The location, however, is what sets it apart: Across the road is the beautiful new Stuart Country Day School. And nearby are the wonderful new Princeton Day Schools, scheduled to open in the Fall of 1965. Altogether, this fine property offers much that is not obtainable anywhere else in Princeton — a new campus concept of country living.
(Sole Agent) $79,500

BEAUTIFUL . . . this one-story residence, built on 3 acres in the wooded seclusion of Brookstone, has a large foyer, a spacious dining room and a big all-electric kitchen. Down two steps is the vast living room with a fireplace at one end and doors leading to the outdoor balcony. Sleeping wing has master bedroom with dressing room and bath, 4 other bedrooms and 2 baths. At the other end of the house is maid's room & bath, laundry and a 3-car garage. Downstairs, opening to a terrace, is a very large family room and a powder room. $79,500

Many fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
